

Las Chicas de Matemáticas:
2009 UNC Math Camp for Young Women
June 14-19, 2009
Application Form

The objective of the camp is to introduce 30 high school girls, who have successfully completed high school algebra, to college mathematics, to a sense of college life, and to women who have careers in mathematics related fields. This is a residential program beginning the afternoon of Sunday, June 14 and ending the evening of Friday, June 19. Live-in camp counselors and the Project Directors will provide 24-hour supervision. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to our program!

To apply, do the following by April 17, 2009:

- 1) Complete the form below.
- 2) Obtain a letter of recommendation from a mathematics teacher who can write about your strengths in mathematics.
- 3) Write a letter stating why you want to participate in the camp.
- 4) Send all materials to: Dr. Hortensia Soto-Johnson,
 UNC School of Mathematical Sciences
