I. Executive Summary

Revenue

Total estimated Fiscal Year 2010-11 revenue for the University of Northern Colorado is $191 million dollars. This includes operating revenue of $182 million and $9 million in restricted grants and contracts. The funds for $9 million in FY11 capital expenditures will come from remaining balances of earlier state capital appropriations, bond funds and transfers from the operating budget.

The June 2010-11 budget book focuses primarily on the assumptions and major changes in UNC's $182 million operating budget. In FY11, which is the final year Colorado higher education funding will be supplemented with federal stimulus money, UNC will receive a total of $40.6 million in state and federal support. This represents 22% of the $182 million operating revenue and is a $3.5 million (8%) decline in FY10 state and federal support. Tuition, fees, and room and board charges to students will account for 68% of UNC's operating revenue. Undergraduate tuition is the single largest source of revenue at $56.7 million, and graduate tuition is $12.0 million.

FY11 undergraduate tuition rates will increase 9%; undergraduate enrollment has been budgeted to increase 3%.

Room and Board rates will increase an average of 7.3%, resulting in about $2.0 million in new revenue.

Growth in off-campus and online instruction has been a focus for UNC. Almost $2.5 million in new revenue is forecasted based on 18% enrollment growth and rate increases of 4-20%. A new incentive plan has been implemented to encourage faculty to develop online courses and deliver instruction in locations such as Centerra, Denver and Colorado Springs.

Academic fees for instructional materials and for high-cost programs in nursing and music will increase about $600 thousand. These fees will directly fund the student's instructional program.

The students have approved a $120 per year addition to the student fee for the Quality of Life initiative for services related to the Counseling Center, Boomerang (bus system), Campus Recreation, and Performing and Visual Arts programs.

The operating budget also reflects a $1.7 million increase in revenue and equivalent expenses as a result of shifting the alumni and development functions from the UNC Foundation to the university. Managing and investing donated funds will continue to be the responsibility of the UNC Foundation.

Total revenues are shown on page 5 and a schedule of change is on page 6.

UNC will need to submit a supplemental appropriation request through the Department of Higher Education for revenues in excess of the Long Bill amount.

- Tuition revenue will exceed the Long Bill amount by about $400 thousand because the Joint Budget Committee staff assumed a 9% increase in graduate tuition rates instead of UNC's 15% rate increase.
- Fees will exceed the Long Bill amount by about $450 thousand because the Joint Budget Committee estimates did not provide for inflationary increases, nor did the timing allow for inclusion of the new program fees for nursing and music.

Discounting

UNC continues to invest in institutionally funded scholarships, tuition waivers, room and board waivers and graduate assistantship stipends as part of our overall pricing strategy. For FY11 the total amount of undergraduate scholarships is budgeted at the same level as FY10 (a $4.3 million increase from FY09). Graduate scholarships and waivers will increase by about $500 thousand, and room and board waivers will increase $150 thousand. Graduate stipends, which play an important role in attracting graduate students and also offset adjunct costs, are budgeted to increase $700 thousand in FY11.

Additional scholarship and tuition waiver information is provided on page 11.

Investments

New revenue offset by the loss in state funding totals $12.4 million, but this results in very little flexibility in expenditure allocations.

- About $2.3 million of this is fee revenue, which will be allocated in accordance with the purpose of the fees.
- $1.7 million is related to the shift of development and alumni responsibilities and is committed to those functions.
- Debt service will increase $800 thousand.
- $1.3 million will be invested in scholarships, waivers and stipends.
- Faculty and support costs necessary for the growth in online and off-campus revenue total $2.1 million.
- The cost of faculty promotions and sabbaticals consistent with university policy totals $250 thousand.
- Increases in the cost of food, minimum wage and credit card fees and adjustments for other economic changes total $300 thousand.
- Students have requested extended dining hours at the University Center and Holmes Dining Hall. A convenience store option is also being made available for dining dollars. The cost of these enhanced services is approximately $250 thousand.

A schedule of changes to the expenditure budget is on page 6.

Budget Book Overview

Section II presents UNC's recommended Operating Budget, Grants and Contract Budget and Capital Budget and incorporates the rate changes previously approved by the Board. Section III provides a summary of rate changes and the impact on the student's cost of attendance and includes trend data on institutional discounting of revenue.

Section IV provides other financial information relevant to the Board's approval of the FY11 budget, including debt service and cash balances.

The appendices are a compendium of the budget details, rate changes, and enrollment assumptions as discussed with the Board at the past several meetings. This is intended to serve as a comprehensive summary for future reference.

Financial Aid and Discounting

Discussion of financial aid and discounting is most often in the context of enrollment management. In that context, the focus of the discussion is on the student perspective, and data is presented with that in mind. For example, one common discounting metric for enrollment management purposes measures the average financial aid package for a freshman (including institutional, state and federal aid) as compared to the average bill for a freshman (including tuition, fees, and room and board).

The purpose of this section is to focus on the financial impact to the University of offering institutional scholarships and waivers. Therefore, rather than using a student perspective of net price paid, the following tables use an institutional perspective of discounted revenue. The metric reflected here (discount percentage) is the percent of gross tuition revenue that is paid out in institutional scholarships and waivers.

Cash Balance

Cash Flow Cycle

July ending balances are typically the lowest monthly cash balances. Cash actually continues to decline through mid-August, and then starts to climb by the end of August as student tuition, fees, and room and board payments are received. The graph below shows the cash flow cycle for the university in total.

<sup>(1) $9.5</sup>M of federal stimulus (ARRA) money that was expected in June 2010 was received in May 2010.
