Course Description:

This class is for anyone interested in teaching music literacy or learning to read music and sing correctly. It is based on Justine Ward's method of teaching music through games and challenges beginning in the youngest grades. This method based on Gregorian chant elements was designed for the elementary Catholic classroom teacher without any prior musical background, but it is also appropriate for the secular music classroom teacher interested in teaching musical literacy and aesthetic instruction through singing. It is also useful for adult choral instruction. This class covers K-2 grade instruction through pitch matching strategies, whole body movement for rhythm and musical interpretation, and number notation for melody which becomes transcribed to standard staff notation through composition activities in the diatonic scale. Correct vocal production is taught through Intonation Exercises designed to perfect sight-reading skills. Analytical skills are emphasized through class participation of identifying correct pitch, timbre, rhythmic accuracy, and melodic and rhythmic dictation.

Students will attend a one and a half week workshop of 45 semester hours, engaging in all aspects of Ward Method instruction as presented to elementary classrooms. Evaluations will be for written lesson plans, participation in small group presentations of individual components of a Ward lesson, a musical composition using skills learned in the workshop, Ear, Eye, and Rhythmic Dictations. In lieu of a final, one complete Ward Lesson will be presented to the class for evaluation. Graduate credit students will be required to present two complete Ward Lessons.

Objectives:

Students will

1. Develop skills in singing correctly, sight reading, movement, analytical listening, melodic and rhythmic dictation, improvisation, and composition.
2. Learn music fundamentals of the diatonic scale in one octave.
3. Sing secular folk songs and ancient sacred Christian* melodies from around the world in diatonic scales.
4. Develop literacy integration through aesthetic understanding of texts, vocabulary, and sensitive interpretation of secular folk songs and ancient sacred Christian* melodies through whole body movements designed to teach smooth legato singing.

5. Understand and read Rousseau's number notation method and transcribe to standard staff notation.
6. Read rhythms including quarter note, quarter rest, half note, dotted half note, and half notes and dotted half notes tied to quarter notes and half notes in Upbeat and Downbeat duple and triple meters in stick notation transcribed to standard rhythmic notation.
7. Appreciate the beauty of the musical phrase while using steady beat in preparation for interpreting mixed meter.
8. Develop teaching skills for music instruction which addresses the needs of exceptional students which can be taught as part of the regular classroom or as separate music instruction.

 Students who are uncomfortable with singing sacred Christian texts are encouraged to substitute solfege syllables for these texts.

Students with Disabilities

Any student requesting disability accommodation for this class must inform the instructor giving appropriate notice. Students are encouraged to contact Disability Support Services at (970) 351-2289 to certify documentation of disability and to ensure appropriate accommodations are implemented in a timely manner.

Honor Code

All members of the University of Northern Colorado community are entrusted with the responsibility to uphold and promote five fundamental values: Honesty, Trust, Respect, Fairness, and Responsibility. These core elements foster an atmosphere, inside and outside of the classroom, which serves as a foundation and guides the UNC community's academic, professional, and personal growth. Endorsement of these core elements by students, faculty, staff, administration, and trustees strengthens the integrity and value of our academic climate.

UNC's Policies

UNC's policies and recommendations for academic misconduct will be followed. For additional information, please see the Dean of Student's website, Student Handbook link <http://www.unco.edu/dos/handbook/index.html>

Student Satisfaction Evaluation

Participants will be asked to evaluate the workshop for instructors' knowledge, interest and enthusiasm as well as providing additional information on classes or topics which you would like to see developed as a future offering from UNC.

Portable Electronic Devices

Please extend courtesy to your instructor and fellow students by turning off your portable electronic devices such as: cell phones, pagers, and iPods. Although not an audio issue, text-messaging is a distraction to other students and prevents you from full participation in class. You should keep your portable electronic devices in your backpack or purse during class. Your personal electronic devices should not be on your desks. If you know that you may need to accept an emergency phone call during class or if you have children in childcare or school, please let the instructor know. If you need to take a phone call during class, please step out of the classroom while you complete your call. Thank you for your cooperation.

Course Withdrawal Information

In accordance with University and Colorado Department of Higher Education policy, if you drop this class after July 1, 2012, you are legally responsible for payment of full tuition. In order to be eligible to receive any refund of tuition, you must contact the Office of Extended Studies (1-800-232-1749) to formally withdraw from your class. Your refund, if applicable, will be based on the date of contact with our office. Withdrawals received via telephone during non-business hours will be processed and dated on the next working day. Failure to notify us will result in UNC tuition being owed even though you do not attend or complete the coursework.
