Assistantships

Graduate Assistantship (GA) – Administrative Offices at UNC

Some Administrative Offices on campus will hire graduate assistants. Applications for graduate assistantships offered through the administrative offices on campus are available through the Graduate School or in the administrative offices of the University. Completed applications must be returned to Carter Hall 2007 by early March each year. Applications will be reviewed for admission and sent to division personnel for further screening and interviews. Availability of positions is contingent upon funding. Appointment decisions are made in early April for the following fall academic year.

Graduate Assistantship (GA)

A full-time student enrolled in a UNC graduate program performing administrative duties and/or assigned program related duties including instructional support but who is not the Instructor of Record.

Teaching Assistantship (TA)

A full-time student enrolled in a UNC graduate program hired as the Instructor of Record in one or more undergraduate courses.

Summer Graduate Research Assistantship (SGRA)

Stipend Award and Tuition if applicable. A full-time student enrolled in a UNC graduate program who is assigned to an individual faculty member or a group of faculty for the express purpose of assisting in defined aspects of a research project.

UNC Faculty members who wish to conduct research projects during the summer term and will need the support of a graduate research assistant in that work. Summer Graduate Research Assistant (SGRA) awards provide funding to support the cost of a graduate research assistant. SGRA awards will be funded based on the GA FTE calculations and Minimum Stipends Grid for summer (13 weeks). A participating student may choose to be enrolled for no more than six credit hours in courses during the summer. Tuition support (up to six hours resident rate summer) will accompany the stipend for those participating students who are enrolled during the summer.

Eligibility Requirements for Teaching or Graduate Assistants

1. The student must be admitted to a graduate degree program at UNC while maintaining good academic standing at UNC (at least a 3.0 grade point average) and not on academic probation.
2. In order to be eligible for a tuition stipend, student must maintain full-time graduate status (enroll in 3-10 credit hours per semester) during the period of the appointment. Students enrolled for dissertation hours only will be allowed to hold an assistantship for a maximum of two (2) semesters provided they are enrolled for a minimum of (6) hours of dissertation each semester.
3. Test of Spoken English (TSE) scores for International Teaching Assistants: International applicants for teaching assistantships at UNC who are not native speakers of English must submit Test of Spoken English (TSE) test scores of at least 50, in order to be considered for teaching assistantships. This score indicates that the individual's communication in English is generally effective, as defined by the Educational Testing Services, which means that the communication task is performed completely, and the individual successfully uses compensatory strategies:
 - Functions generally are performed clearly and effectively;
 - Generally appropriate response are given to audience/situation;
 - Coherent, with some effective use of cohesive devices;
 - Generally accurate pronunciation, grammar, fluency and vocabulary.

Departments may establish a higher standard. Such standards should be communicated to the Graduate School and interested applicants. These standards apply only to “teaching” assistants and not to graduate assistants and graduate research assistants who do not have classroom teaching responsibilities.

4. GA/TA/GRA appointments is based upon full-time employment using a 20 hour work week over 17 weeks (15 week semester plus 1 week each before and after class) as the standard. Summer is based on 13 weeks to include one week prior and one week after. Stipend is calculated based on minimum GA/TA/GRA stipends and by degree levels.
5. Students may not hold a single appointment or combination of appointments exceeding 20 hours a week for any semester, as that moves the student from a student status and is contrary to the intent of assistantships.
6. Instructional Responsibilities for Teaching Assistants:
For the mutual benefit and protection of TA’s and students, every teaching assistant is obligated to share with students early in the term the following:
 - Course objective
 - The general strategy, topics, subject matter, materials, and tasks to be employed to meet those objectives
 - A list of tentative deadlines for accomplishment of assigned tasks. Lead time commensurate with the task should be provided.
 - The method, criteria and weight to be applied to each criterion in determining final grade

Compensation

1. The University has established a standard base salary schedule setting a minimum level of pay for all TA/GA/GRA positions, one at the master’s level (students does not have a master’s degree or does not have at least 30 hours of graduate work) and one at the doctoral level.
2. TA, GA and GRA appointments of 16 – 20 hours a week during a semester receive full tuition assistance during that semester. Those appointed 8 – 15 hours a week receive one-half tuition assistance and those appointed for 3 – 7 hours a week are not eligible for tuition assistance during that semester. Tuition is based on a per credit hour basis. The Graduate School will pay tuition from 3-10 credit hours per semester. Over 10 hours will be the responsibility of the student. Eligible students will receive non-resident tuition for their first year of enrollment only. For subsequent years, only in-state tuition assistance will be given. Any exceptions to this policy must be requested in writing and approved by the Dean of the Graduate School.
3. The student will be responsible for all charges other than tuition and fees, student health insurance and any other special fees.
