THE HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE ADVANTAGE

MAKE FRIENDS

Each year, hundreds of programs are offered to residents. A few examples of these activities are: study skills workshops, tutoring, self defense workshops, billiards, card, and board game tournaments, leadership workshops, responsible alcohol use seminars, feature movies, basketball and softball tournaments, communication skills workshops, and assertiveness training. Take advantage of these programs to meet people with similar interests and learn new skills in the process. Get involved and meet new friends!

GET INVOLVED

Living in on-campus housing is an excellent way to become part of the UNC campus community. Campus residents live in communities with 30 to 70 other students. We will help you develop your community, but your active involvement is essential to getting the most out of your residence hall experience.

BE A LEADER

On-campus living offers many opportunities to become involved in your community. Student leaders have a significant responsibility for community development and hall governance. For example, each residence hall has its own community council and there is a campus-wide residence hall student governing body (Residence Hall Association). There are numerous ways to become a leader within your hall and on-campus. Talk to your resident assistant or hall director for more information on ways to become a campus leader.

GET SUPPORT

An important factor in your academic and personal success is peer support. You can find a unique sense of belonging within residence hall communities because they foster connections between many different individuals. The residence halls are a great place to build friendships that will shape your college experience and last beyond your time at UNC. Living on-campus provides ample opportunities, through programming and social interaction, to get acquainted and involved with the campus community. Be a friend!

Aside from peer support, another very important support system is available to you in the residence halls – your hall staff. A resident assistant will live in your community, and will help you find ways to get involved at UNC. Your resident assistant is a student, just like you, and they are trained to provide support to residents in all areas of their lives. Get to know your resident assistant, ask them questions, and allow them to help you get the most out of your residence hall experience.

Your hall director is also here to support you. Your hall director will advise community council, help shape the community, and helps keep your residence hall running smoothly. Hall Directors are full-time professional staff with experience in student affairs. Your hall director can assist you with all different types of questions, and is a great person to know in your hall!

YOUR RIGHTS

Living on-campus allows you to live your lifestyle with the assurance that each individual's rights are valued and protected. Each member of the residence hall community must balance the rights of all individuals with their own rights. Take care to show respect for others, and you will find that you earn their respect.

ACCESS SERVICES

Our housing facilities offer much more than a place to eat and sleep. The residence halls offer extensive opportunities for personal, social, and academic enrichment. The residence halls also offer a comprehensive set of meal and support services. Take advantage of the student support services available to you as a UNC student. Talk to your resident assistant or hall director if you have questions about the services available to you as a UNC student. Ask questions, inquire about services, and provide suggestions on how UNC can better serve students!

HALL INVOLVEMENT

Getting involved with community activities can help you enjoy your UNC experience and earn better grades. Research shows that if you get involved outside of the classroom, you will be more satisfied and earn a higher grade point average (GPA). For this reason, our residence halls are more than a place to live. The UNC residence halls are community-oriented living environments where resident ownership determines the quality of the community. There are many opportunities for residents to interact with their peers through formal and informal programming, leadership opportunities, and academically focused events. Residents who take advantage of these opportunities and the community-oriented environment improve both their academic performance and satisfaction with the college experience. Living in the residence halls at UNC can be a fun and enriching experience if you take advantage of the breadth of opportunities available to you. Get involved!

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AND RECREATION

There are many different types of recreational activities available to you as a residence hall student. A variety of board games and sports equipment is available for check-out through the front desks of the residence halls. Many of the residence halls offer pool tables, ping-pong tables, or a piano. There are also music practice rooms in many of the halls where you can play your own musical instrument.

If you like to be active, then the UNC student recreation center is a great place for you. Aside from cardio equipment, weights, a rock climbing wall, and open swim, the Student Recreation Center offers a variety of fitness classes and intramural sports. All students have access to the recreation center with their student ID, and getting involved in intramural sports is as easy as a phone call to the Campus Recreation Center (970-351-2062).

Also, don't forget about supporting your favorite UNC Bears athletic team. Watch the Bears compete in baseball, basketball, cross-country, football, golf, tennis, track and field, wrestling, soccer, softball, swimming, diving, and volleyball. UNC also has several popular club sports, such as hockey, that many students enjoy supporting.

RESIDENCE HALL COMMUNITY COUNCILS

If you want to take an active role in shaping the community in your residence hall or would like to gain valuable leadership skills, then you should check out your residence hall community council. Community councils are a great way to meet other student leaders and take an active role in your community. See your hall director for more information about community councils and how you can get involved!

Residence hall community councils play an influential role in the development of hall community. Community councils plan many large events within the halls and are a primary source of change within the residence halls. For example, community councils have chosen to purchase different types of equipment for check-out at the front desk, and have made suggestions regarding policies and procedures. Some programs typically sponsored by community councils are Haunted Harrison, the McOscars, Invisible Children, and homecoming activities. Community council representatives work with the Residence Hall Association and staff from Housing & Residence Life on issues such as facility improvements, academic services, educational programs, and leadership development workshops.

RESIDENCE HALL ASSOCIATION

The Residence Hall Association (RHA) combines all community councils into one large body of students representing all residence hall students at UNC. RHA works with the administration on policy changes, physical improvements, and provides a wide variety of social and academic programming on a campus level. Additionally, RHA sponsors student attendance at regional and national conferences, which are a great opportunity to network with other student leaders and learn new skills.

As a student living in the residence halls, you are automatically a member of RHA. Take advantage of RHA by joining in the weekly meetings on Tuesday nights at 7pm in the Columbine room at the University Center. Also, look for publicity about programs and events sponsored by RHA.

UPSILON NU CHI (YNX)

Upsilon Nu Chi (YNX) is an organization recognizing the top 1% of residence hall leaders for their contributions to the residence halls and campus community. An honorary and service organization, YNX is a nationally recognized chapter of the National Residence Hall Honorary, and is comprised of students excelling in academic, social, and leadership development while living in the residence halls. YNX members often have opportunities to serve on campus-wide committees that help shape UNC. Applications for YNX are accepted each spring, so begin building your leadership and academic experiences early in the year.

LIVING WITH A ROOMMATE

Living with a roommate can be exciting and challenging at times. For most students, sharing a living space with someone else is a big change. Hall staff, like your Resident Assistant, are available to assist you and your roommate in making a smooth transition to residence hall living.

Shortly after you move into your residence hall room, your RESIDENT ASSISTANT will ask you and your roommate or suitemates to fill out a roommate agreement. It is important to be open and honest with your roommate or suitemates as you discuss the following topics:

- Are you a morning person or a night owl?
- What is the best time for you to get up in the morning?
- When do you like to go to bed? Do you need the room to be quiet/ dark/ warm/ cool, etc. while you sleep?
- Do you like to hit the snooze button repeatedly or do you get up at the first buzzer on your alarm clock?
- How messy or neat do you keep your room? Are there acceptable types of messes, or unacceptable ones? How often do you prefer to clean things like the floors and bathroom/vanity?
- Do you make your bed?
- How do you feel about your roommate borrowing your belongings? Are certain items to be considered communal property, and are others off-limits?
- Would you like your roommate to ask before borrowing personal items, school items, etc?
- Do you like to sleep with the window open or closed; the room warm or cool, etc?
- How do you feel about visitors or overnight guests?
- How do you like to study: in your room or in the library; in silence or with background noise, etc?
- How do you handle stress? What do you like to do to relax?
- How will you and your roommates handle locking the door – is the last person out responsible?
- How will you work your message system so everyone gets their messages on time? How will you work the mail – should you pick it up for everyone in your room, or does everyone need to get their own mail out of the mailbox?
- How do you feel about underage alcohol or other illegal substance use?

ROOMMATE BILL OF RIGHTS

Your enjoyment of your residence hall experience will depend, to a large extent, on the amount of thoughtful consideration that you and your roommate or suitemates demonstrate for each other. Every student living in the residence halls has the following rights:

1. The right to read and study free from undue interference in one's room.
2. The right to sleep without undue disturbance from noise, guests of roommates/suitemates, etc.
3. The right to expect that a roommate will respect one's personal belongings.
4. The right to a clean living environment.
5. The right to free access to one's room and facilities without pressure from a roommate.
6. The right to privacy.
7. The right to host guests with the expectation that one's guests are to respect the rights of other occupants of the room and community.

8. The right for redress of grievances. Housing & Residence Life staff are available to assist you in settling conflicts.
9. The right to expect reasonable cooperation in the use of shared room space, such as living areas and vanities.
10. The right to expect reasonable cooperation in the use of communal appliances in your room (i.e. telephone, refrigerator, etc.).
11. The right to be free from peer pressure or ridicule regarding your choice to abstain from alcohol consumption or substance use.

Remember: To be a mature adult is to accept responsibility for the welfare of others. Only you can assure that you and your roommate enjoy the rights listed above.

Housing & Residence Life staff members are available to assist you with any issues arising between you and your roommate/suitemates. Your resident assistant and your hall director are happy to provide you with the tools you need to solve roommate conflicts and other issues arising within your community. Sometimes roommate and community issues become conduct issues, and once individual behavior violates Housing & Residence Life policies, responsible students may face disciplinary action.

DINING SERVICES

You have a lot on your mind and the schedule you keep is crazy, so UNC dining options are designed to fit into your lifestyle. Nutritious, all you care to eat, meals are offered in each of the UNC dining rooms (the University Center Food Court, Tobey-Kendel Dining Room, and Holmes Dining Room), and meals-to-go are available for your convenience at both Tobey-Kendel and Holmes dining rooms. Dining on-campus provides students with the opportunity to socialize over a sit-down meal, or offers the opportunity to grab a quick meal when you're in a rush. Leaving the grocery shopping, cooking, and cleaning to Dining Services allows you more time for studying and social activities.

Upholding one of UNC's oldest traditions, all freshmen living on-campus are required to carry the 19 Traditional Meal Plan. Upper division students (20 years or older OR those who have earned 20 or more credits) may re-contract for a lesser traditional meal plan by the University published add-drop date.  - Combustible Decorations on Light Fixtures
 - Combustible Lampshades, including Paper Lanterns
 - Extension Cords Running From Light Fixtures
 - George Foreman Grills
 - Halogen Lamps
 - Homemade Light Fixtures
 - Hot Plates
 - Microwaves over 700 Watts
 - Modified Light Fixtures
 - Multiple Extension Cords Plugged into Each Other or Spider-type Configuration on Extension Cords
 - Non-UL Approved Appliances or Fixtures
 - Open-coil Cooking Devices
 - Refrigerators over 3.7 cubic feet

- Possession of prohibited appliances is a violation of the Student Rights and Responsibilities Community Standards and may result in disciplinary action. If you have questions about an appliance, hall staff (Resident Assistant, Assistant Hall Director, or Hall Director) are available to help determine if an appliance is approved.
- Compact refrigerators under 3.7 cubic feet, microwaves under 700 watts, coffee pots and a variety of other appliances are allowed.
- The light fixtures in your room should be equipped with 60 watt (ceiling) or 45 watt (lamps) bulbs. DO NOT INCREASE the bulb size or wattage. Additional light bulbs for lamps are available at the front desks. If a ceiling light or a light in an enclosed fixture burns out, report this to the front desk so Housing Services can replace it. Please recycle your used compact fluorescent light bulbs at the front desk of your residence hall.

- Electrical extension cords must be well maintained and in good repair, have a grounding prong, and bear the Underwriter Laboratory (UL) label. Electrical and extension cords may not be spliced or run under any doors, as this poses a significant fire hazard. Do not nail, pin in place, or cover extension devices. If additional extension outlets are needed, special multiple outlet boxes equipped with a built-in breaker are available at several local retail stores. Extension cords must be of appropriate gauge wire to handle the desired appliance, although we recommend all appliances be plugged directly into the wall outlet or a surge protector. If an extension cord should become warm to the touch, it is too lightweight and must be replaced with a heavier gauge wire. The Department of Housing & Residence Life suggests the purchase and use of power strips/surge protectors.

- MICROFRIDGE RENTALS

- As a service, The Department of Housing & residence Life has partnered with Colorado Collegiate Rentals to offer residents the opportunity to rent microwave/refrigerator units for the academic year. For $170 per year, residents can have a microfridge unit delivered to their residence hall room before arriving on campus, eliminating the need to haul a refrigerator and microwave to and from campus. Roommates may split the cost of a microfridge. For more information about renting a microfridge, please contact Colorado Collegiate Rentals at 1-877-449-6422.

- BICYCLES

- Bicycle racks are available outside each residence hall facility. Bicycles should be locked by the frame, and registered through UNC Parking Services. Bicycles may not be hung from residence hall room ceilings, walls, or furniture. Parking bicycles in non-designated areas (i.e. hallways, hall entrances, trees, railings, and handicapped zones) may result in bicycle impoundment and/or a fine. Bicycles must be removed at the end of the academic year (May) or they will be impounded by UNCPD. If you wish to store your bicycle in your residence hall room, obtain your roommate's/suitemates' permission before doing so.
- Bicycle registration is available through UNC Parking Services. All bicycles on campus need to be registered through UNC Parking Services. To register your bicycle, you need fill out a bicycle registration card with your bicycle serial number. Proof of current address is also required. Bicycle registration costs $5.00 and does not expire. It is also a good way to help prevent bicycle theft.

• CHECK-IN PROCEDURES

- Before a residence hall room is occupied, it is inspected by a Housing & Residence Life staff member, who notes the condition of the entire room on a master room inventory form. Upon arrival, residents will be asked to complete their own room inventory form, which is used to note any pre-existing damage to the room. It is important to be accurate and thorough when completing the room inventory, and to return it to a hall staff member as quickly as possible.
- Upon completion of the room inventory form, each resident will be issued a room key. It is important to keep your room key in a safe location, and to immediately notify the residence hall front desk if you should lose or misplace your room key as this is a safety and security risk.

• CHECK-OUT PROCEDURES

- When moving out of a residence hall room, whether at the end of the year or during a room move, it is important to follow proper check-out procedures. Improper check out will result in a minimum of a $35.00 charge.
- It is important to get your hall staff (Resident Assistant or Hall Director) involved as soon as you begin thinking about a room move. If you are having difficulties with your roommates/suitemate, hall staff members can help you resolve conflicts before a room move is necessary.
- A proper check out begins by removing all personal belongings, removing all trash, cleaning the room/suite/apartment, and returning the space to the condition at check-in. Next, schedule a check out appointment with a hall staff member, typically your Resident Assistant. At the time of check-out, a hall staff member will thoroughly inspect your room.
- The room inventory form, filled out by the resident upon check-in, and the inspection of the room by a hall staff member will serve as the basis for check-out charges, if assessed. Charges may include any damage to a room not considered to be part of normal wear and tear. If anything in the residence hall room is broken, damaged, unaccounted for, or in need of cleaning, the student(s) responsible will be billed for damages. Students or their guests who steal, lose, destroy, or damage UNC property, will be billed accordingly. In addition, unauthorized removal, malicious damage, and/or vandalism to property are violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards and Colorado law. Students engaging in the above behaviors may be subject to criminal prosecution and/or University disciplinary action.

• CLEANING

- Residents are expected to maintain a clean and healthy living environment in their residence hall room – this is a responsibility shared by ALL residents assigned to a living space. Failure to maintain a clean room poses a health risk, and is, consequently, a justifiable reason for having the room cleaned by UNC Housing Services staff at the residents' expense.

You are expected to change bed linen, clean and dust rooms, remove trash regularly, and clean the bathroom (Hansen-Willis, Harrison, Lawrenson, President's Row, Turner, and University Apartments) to maintain a healthy living environment. Limited cleaning supplies and vacuums are available for check-out through your residence hall front desk.

- COMMUNITY DAMAGES

- Damage or vandalism that occurs in a community space and cannot be attributed to an individual(s) will be billed to all residents of the community. As a reminder, residents can be held responsible for the actions of their guests. All residents are encouraged to immediately report incidents of damage or vandalism to their Hall Director, Resident Assistant, or to the front desk.

- CONSOLIDATING VACANCIES

- In order to meet the needs of a variety of residents and to be cost effective, the University reserves the right to assign roommates and/or require individuals to change room assignment to consolidate vacancies. Vacancies are consolidated by having a resident move from a double room with only one occupant to another double room that also has only one occupant to create a room that has double occupancy. For a limited time before consolidation, the Department of Housing & Residence Life will allow residents the opportunity to find a new roommate of his/her choice that is currently living in the residence halls.
- If space is available before consolidation, a resident may occupy his/her room as a paid single. If you are interested in purchasing your double occupancy room as a paid single, check with your Hall Director regarding the availability of this option and the charges to purchase a paid single.

- COOKING

- For health and safety reasons, students are not allowed to cook with prohibited appliances in their residence hall rooms, or in community kitchens. Electric coffee pots, popcorn poppers, refrigerators under 3.7 cubic feet in size, and microwaves under 700 watts are permitted in residence halls rooms, provided they are Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) approved. The University reserves the right to remove all unapproved electrical cooking appliances.

- ELEVATORS

- Many of UNC's facilities are equipped with elevators for your convenience. It is important that basic safety measures be observed at all times. Please obey load limits, refrain from horseplay in elevators, and do not attempt to stop elevators doors from closing. In case of an elevator failure, please use the call box to call for help. Never attempt to exit a malfunctioning elevator without safety personnel to assist in your evacuation.

- Vandalism to the residence hall elevators, including damage caused by horseplay or willfully disobeying elevator safety guidelines, is considered a violation of Housing & Residence Life policies and can result in disciplinary action and/or charges for elevator repair.

• Energy Conservation

- UNC is proud to help you conserve energy and recycle. Please be energy conscious in the residence halls – turn off appliances and electronics when they are not in use, turn off the lights in your room when you are not there, report leaking pipes to your residence hall front desk, Recycle bins are located in residence hall dumpster enclosures, and each residence hall room has a blue recycle bin to help you sort recyclables. Compact fluorescent light bulbs can be recycled at your front desk. There are many ways to help conserve on the UNC campus, so please do your part to help the environment.

• ENTRY INTO STUDENT ROOMS

- The University reserves the right to enter student rooms in order to perform routine maintenance and repair, for facility reviews (i.e. hall closing procedures during break periods), and to investigate security or endangerment concerns. University of Northern Colorado personnel may enter students rooms for the following reasons:
 - To determine the condition of University property.
 - To ensure that healthy standards of cleanliness and safety are maintained.
 - To perform maintenance as required or requested.
 - To conduct preventative maintenance during break periods.
 - To handle personal endangerment and/or life-threatening situations.
 - To enforce the Code of Conduct, Community Standards as outlined in this handbook (pg. 30), and to handle situations which cause a nuisance in the community.
- A Housing & Residence Life staff member or other University official may enter student rooms during the academic year for routine reviews (health issues, damages, break closing reviews, policy violations, and noise problems). Should staff observe property in violation of University of Northern Colorado policies and/or local/state/federal law, these suspected/observed violations will be reported to the appropriate authorities. UNCPD and/or Housing & Residence staff will confiscate property in violation of the Student Code of Conduct, Housing & Residence Life Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards, local laws, state laws, and/or federal laws. All confiscated property will be submitted to UNCPD, and students found to be in possession of prohibited items will be subject to disciplinary action and/or criminal prosecution.

- Scheduled room reviews will take place during Health & Safety Week (early September) and during break periods in which students are asked to vacate their residence hall rooms.

• FURNITURE

- For your safety, raising beds with any type of risers is not permitted. This includes the use of cement/cinder blocks, desks, catalogs, milk crates, etc. All beds, except those in Turner singles, are “tool-free”, bunkable with pins available at your residence hall front desk, and allow for three height adjustments. Housing & Residence Life staff members can provide you with instructions and rubber mallets for adjusting your bed. Any damage incurred from personal adjustment of the bed is the financial responsibility of the student.
- Any alterations to room furnishings, including the beds and closets, will result in possible fines to cover the cost of repair or replacement.
- Students are allowed to remove University-owned room furnishings. Students are responsible for the storage of any University-owned furniture removed from residence hall rooms, and for returning all University-owned furniture to the residence hall room in its original condition. Students should take special care to ensure that the furniture, walls and doors are not damaged during the removal and return of University-owned furniture. The student is financially responsible for and damage to University property that may occur during the removal, storage, and return of furniture.

• GUESTS

- All guests and visitors are required to present photo identification and sign-in at the front desk when entering a residence hall. Guests under 16 years of age must also provide parent permission.
- One overnight guest per resident for a maximum of 2 nights in a 14-day period is allowed. Overnight guests are defined as anyone not assigned to the residence hall room in which they are staying. You must have prior permission from your roommate or suitemates to have overnight guests.
- Violations of the guest policy will result in disciplinary action and the immediate removal of guests.

• INVESTIGATION OF UNIVERSITY PREMISES

- The University reserves the right to inspect University premises. A visual inspection can be made by an agent of the University. Normally, premises will not be searched. A room may be searched, however, by not less than two agents of the University where there is evidence that a search is reasonable. Authorization for room searches will be made by the Dean of Students or his/her designee. The authorization to grant a search will be based on affidavit of reasonable suspicion. Under emergency conditions, waiver of the written authorization requirement may occur when immediate action is deemed necessary and appropriate by the Dean of Students or his/her designee. For criminal action, the normal requirements for lawful search are to be followed.

• KEYS

- Your room key will be issued to you upon check-in to your housing assignment. Only residents assigned to a particular living assignment should have a key to that room. Never lend your key to another person. Duplication of room keys violates occupants' right to safety and will result in a charge for a lock change and possible disciplinary action.
- To protect your belongings and personal safety, always lock your door when you are sleeping or away from your room. If you become locked out of your room, the front desk of your residence hall has lock-out keys available for a limited number of check-outs. Only residents of a room may check-out the lock-out keys for that room.
- If you lose or misplace your key, report this to the front desk immediately. You will be charged for a lock change; however, your personal safety and belongings will be protected.
- Report any problems with locks or keys to your residence hall front desk immediately. Intentional jamming of door and/or locks may result in charges for damages and/or disciplinary action. For more information, see theft (pg. 40). The University is not liable for personal property loss or damage.

• LAUNDRY FACILITIES

- Coin-operated washers and dryers are available in each residence hall, usually in the basement. Change is available at each residence hall front desk. It is the student's responsibility to ensure all laundry is appropriately attended while in the laundry facilities. The University is not liable for damaged, lost, or stolen items.
- To report any loss of money or malfunctioning machines, call JETZ at 1-800-590-5632 or log onto www.JETZservice.com.

• LOCK-OUT PROCEDURE

- If you lock yourself out of your room, lock-out keys are available 24-hours a day at your residence hall front desk. Lock-out keys will only be issued to residents assigned to the particular residence hall room. Lock-out keys may be obtained for one hour or for up to 3 days. A charge for a lock change will be assessed if a lock-out key is not returned on time, or within 3 days.

• MAIL/NEWSPAPERS

• PARKING INFORMATION

- A parking permit is required to park in all University parking lots. Parking permits may be purchased online beginning July 1st and will be mailed to your permanent residence. Parking permits are valid for designated lots and spaces only, and parking in a lot not covered by your parking permit will result in ticketing/fines.

- Motorcycles need a valid University parking permit and must be parked in designated motorcycle parking spaces.
- A complete set of parking regulations may be obtained from University Parking Services in Gray Hall or at www.unco.edu/parking/index.htm.

• PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The Department of Housing & Residence Life strongly encourages all residents to invest in personal property insurance. The University is not liable for any theft, damage or loss of your personal property, under any circumstances. Some students may be covered under a parent or legal guardian's homeowner's insurance, if applicable. Students who think this type of coverage might apply to them, are encouraged to contact their insurance company to verify their coverage and any stipulations to coverage. Most insurance companies offer renter's insurance for a yearly fee. Please take the time to ensure your belongings are adequately covered.

• REPAIRS/ MAINTENANCE

- If any repairs or special maintenance for your residence hall room are needed, notify your residence hall front desk. Please be specific and provide details to the front desk receptionist.

• ROOM CHANGE POLICY

- If you are experiencing roommate conflicts, please speak with your resident assistant or hall director. Most times, a residence hall staff member will be able to help you and your roommate work through difficulties. Remember, living with roommates is an adjustment and part of the adjustment is learning to resolve conflict in a respectful and adult manner. Your residence hall staff are here to help you do this.
- If you wish to change residence hall rooms, you must have the approval of your Residence Hall Director before moving any of your belongings. If a room move is approved by your Residence Hall Director, you must officially check into your new room and check-out of your old room. Room and/or board charges will be assessed until the day you officially check out of your original room, remaining charges will be prorated for your new hall. If you fail to properly check-out from your original residence hall room, you may be billed for this room in addition to the room you are currently occupying until you properly check out of your original room assignment.
- Room moves may affect your meal plan. For example, if you move from Lawrenson into a hall requiring a full meal plan, you will automatically be billed for a full meal plan effective the date you move into the full meal plan hall. Contact Dining Services at 970-351-2652 if you have questions regarding how a room move may affect your meal plan.

• SAFETY

- The Department of Housing & Residence Life is committed to your safety. To help ensure a safe and comfortable living environment, the following security practices are in place at each residence hall:
 - Halls with front desks are staffed 24-hours a day while the University is open.
 - All residence hall exterior doors are locked 24-hours per day, with the exception of Harrison Hall to allow access to the Den. In Harrison Hall only, the doors to residential wings are locked 24-hours a day.
 - Exterior doors of residence halls have card swipe access for residents. All residents and guests must enter and exit from the main entrance after 11:00pm nightly.
 - Residents must present picture identification in order to enter the building after 11:00pm.

- All guests and visitors must be accompanied by a resident of the building, must present a picture ID, and must register with the front desk of the building. This policy is in effect 24-hours a day.
- Propping or vandalism of exterior doors and windows is a security risk and violation of the Student Rights and Responsibilities Community Standards that may result in disciplinary action.
- These security practices may be subject to change if deemed necessary to maintain the security of the residence halls. Students will be notified if changes are made.

• SAFETY HAZARDS

- Please report any fire or life safety hazards to Housing & Residence Life staff immediately.
- In the event of a fire, never assume the fire department/ emergency personnel have been notified. Pull the nearest fire alarm, call 911 to report the fire, and exit the building.
- Make sure to provide the 911 operator with the location of the fire, the nature of the fire, and your full name.
- If you are not in a hazardous situation, do not hang up until you have provided all requested information to the 911 operator.
- It is a violation of University policies, state, and federal law to falsely pull a fire alarm. Students found responsible for such behavior will be subject to University disciplinary procedures and criminal prosecution.

• SECURITY

- Students are encouraged to always lock their residence hall room door whenever they are sleeping or away from their room. It is also recommended that you record a complete description, including model and serial numbers, of property such as stereos, computers, televisions, and other valuables. For your protection, secure or remove valuables from your room during long breaks. If you have questions about keeping your belongings safe, contact your Resident Assistant or UNCPD (970-351-2245) for more information.
- Before arriving on campus, know your family's personal property insurance coverage. Some policies cover student's personal property while they are living in a residence hall. The University does not accept liability for personal property loss, theft, or damage. Please invest in adequate personal property insurance to ensure your belongings are covered in the event of damage, loss, or theft.

• SOLICITATION

- Residence Hall areas may not be used for any unapproved commercial enterprise. The Department of Housing & Residence Life reserves the right to limit commercial sales and solicitations in order to prevent disruption of the community, to protect the safety and security of our residents, to protect students from commercial exploitation, and for any other reason. If a person or organization wishes to distribute information or hang flyers in the residence hall space, the Hall Director must be contacted and grant approval. No commercial advertising or solicitation of any kind may be distributed through student mailboxes.

• TELEPHONES

- Telephone service is provided in each housing facility. Local telephone service is provided to all residents. If residents wish to bring their own telephone, a touch tone phone is required and UNC cannot guarantee the quality of service from privately purchased telephones.
- Long distance calls may be made from room phones with the use of private calling cards, available at local retailers.
- Campus phones are located in some residence hall lobbies.
- If you experience any phone problems, please call User Support at 1-4357.
- Dialing Instructions:
 - To make a campus call: Dial 1 + the last four digits of the phone number
 - To make a local call: Dial 8 + the seven digit phone number
 - To make a long distance call: Requires the use of a private calling card.

• VACATION INFORMATION

- Residence halls, with the exception of Lawrenson Hall, are closed during the semester break (December 14, 2007 through January 11, 2008) and spring break (March 14 through March 23, 2008). During these times, residents are required to vacate the residence halls, but may leave their belongings in their rooms. Only residents living in Lawrenson Hall may stay during break periods. A limited amount of interim housing may be available for students requiring housing during the semester or spring break. Contact the Housing & Residence Life office at 970-351-2721 for more information about interim housing options and cost.

FIRE AND SAFETY

• FIRE EVACUATION/ESCAPE

- Don't panic and stay as calm as possible. You will need to think clearly to make safe decisions.
- Feel the doorknob with the back of your hand, never your palm (if the door is electrically charged the muscles in your hand will react, causing you to grab the doorknob).
- If the door is cool, lean yourself against it and open the door slowly. As you leave the room, make sure all doors and windows are shut (not locked).
- If there is smoke in the air, stay low because the most breathable air will always be near the floor. In a crouched position, or crawling, move quickly towards the nearest exit. If the closest exit is blocked, try the next nearest exit.
- If it is safe, alert others by shouting or knocking as you make your way to the stairs.
- Always escape via stairwells; never use the elevators in a fire. As you leave, make sure all fire doors are closed.
- Once you are outside, stay clear of the building. Follow the directions of residence life staff, fire and police personnel. Never re-enter a burning building for any reason. If you know someone is trapped inside, notify the nearest fire or police personnel.
- For the safety of all residents, do not interfere with residence hall staff members or emergency personnel as they perform their duties. Remain quiet and listen for instructions from fire, police, or Housing & Residence Life staff.
- Do not re-enter the building until official university staff have given you permission.

○ CHEMICALS, EXPLOSIVES, AND FIREWORKS

- Due to the extreme physical danger to residents and the possibility of fire, fireworks, flammable material, liquids, explosives, dangerous chemicals, and/or noxious or harmful materials or liquids are strictly prohibited on University-owned property. All types of fireworks are prohibited by the City of Greeley (Greeley Municipal Uniform Fire Code 78.102). The Greeley Municipal Uniform Fire Code makes it a violation for anyone to possess, store, sell, or use any type of fireworks. Students found to be in possession of fireworks will be subject to University disciplinary action and criminal fines or imprisonment. Activities involving the use of any chemicals, fireworks, and/or explosives will not be tolerated on university-owned property. Students found in possession of any chemicals, fireworks, or explosives will face university disciplinary action and/or criminal prosecution. Any fireworks, explosives, or chemicals found in any housing assignment are subject to immediate seizure by authorized staff members.

- FIRE SAFETY
 - Most housing fires are caused by careless smokers, open flame cooking equipment, candles or overtaxed electrical systems. Toxic gasses in smoke, usually caused by burning plastic, can render a person unconscious in a few seconds. Open flames, including those found in candles, cigarettes, hookah, and incense may not be used in any housing assignment.

- FAILURE TO EVACUATE
 - Failure to evacuate during a fire alarm or hindering the evacuation of other occupants during a fire alarm poses a danger to yourself and others and is prohibited. Severe disciplinary action, including possible suspension or expulsion from the University of Northern Colorado, may be imposed for a violation of evacuation procedures. Additionally, criminal prosecution is possible for falsely pulling a fire alarm (Colorado Revised Statutes 1973 18-8-111(a) as amended) and for damage resulting from the unauthorized use of fire fighting equipment (Colorado Revised Statutes 1973 18-4-506 as amended).

- OPEN FLAMES
 - Starting any fire, intentionally or unintentionally as a result of a policy violation, may result in severe University sanctions (including suspension or expulsion) and/or criminal prosecution. It is a University of Northern Colorado policy to seek criminal prosecution of any person deliberately setting or maintaining a fire on University premises without first obtaining the required City of Greeley and University of Northern Colorado permits. For the above reasons, the Department of Housing & Residence Life prohibits the use of candles and incense in our residence halls.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTHERN COLORADO POLICY ON SEXUAL ASSAULT

Students and recognized organizations at the University of Northern Colorado assume an obligation to exhibit conduct in a manner compatible with the University's function as an educational institution. This includes treating all individuals with respect and dignity.

University of Northern Colorado staff members, including Housing & Residence Life staff, are required to report all crimes that occur, including sexual assault, to appropriate law enforcement authorities. If any Housing & Residence Life staff member is informed of a sexual assault, they will report the crime, including names of individuals involved, identifying information of suspects, and details of the crime to the University of Northern Colorado police department. University of Northern Colorado police will then follow-up with the victim. If you are a victim of sexual assault and do not want the incident to be investigated, you should contact Assault Survivors Advocacy Program (ASAP) (970-351-1490) to report the incident and seek assistance. As part of the University of Northern Colorado Counseling Center, all crimes reported to ASAP is bound by counselor-patient confidentiality and does not have to report the sexual assault to law enforcement unless the victim wishes to do so.

• IF YOU ARE A VICTIM OF SEXUAL ASSAULT

- If you believe you have been a victim of sexual assault, you may be confused about what has happened to you or where to get help. If you are unsure about whether a sexual assault has occurred, or if you are not sure you want to report a sexual assault to the police, you should contact the Assault Survivors Advocacy Program (ASAP) at 970-351-1490 for confidential information and support. An ASAP advocate can assist you in making important decisions regarding sexual assault and help you contact appropriate resources.
- If you have been a victim of sexual assault, you may be hesitant to tell anyone or you may want to act as if nothing has happened. However, it is important to seek help and UNC has resources to help you deal with a sexual assault. The following steps should serve as a guide:
 - Get help quickly. If you are physically injured, seek immediate medical attention.
 - Call the campus police at 970-351-2245 or 911, or ASAP advocates at 970-351-4040. ASAP will keep your information confidential. If you are unsure of who to call, or would like support, your resident assistant or hall director can assist you in contacting the police or ASAP. Just remember, if you decide to tell your resident assistant or hall director about a crime, they have to report it to the police.
 - Call a close friend or relative for support.
 - Do not douche, bathe, or change clothes until you have talked with the police (if you would like to report the assault). You may destroy valuable evidence needed by the police. If you are unsure about reporting the assault to the police, give yourself time to make an informed decision – do not shower, douche or bathe until you have talked with an ASAP advocate. If you change clothes, place all clothing in a paper bag.

○ MEDICAL ADVICE

- A person who has been assaulted needs medical attention. The best person to judge injuries is a doctor. A sexual assault can cause internal injuries, expose you to sexually transmitted infection, or result in pregnancy. Even if you do not intend to report an assault, it is very important to be examined. Sometimes it can be helpful to have a close friend or relative with you for the examination; however, it is important to be examined as soon after the assault as possible.

○ IF SOMEONE YOU KNOW IS SEXUALLY VIOLATED

▪ DO

- Be supportive
- Listen and allow them to share their feelings
- Communicate that your friend is not responsible for what happened
- Make sure he or she has a safe place to stay. A residence life staff member can assist you in finding a safe location.
- Realize that you have been impacted by the assault, and seek counseling if necessary
- Allow your friend to regain control by making his or her own decisions
- Make yourself available to accompany your friend to the hospital, counseling center, police department, etc.

▪ DON'T

- Make jokes
- Be angry at your friend
- Force your friend to talk
- Judge your friend or ask how he or she could have “let this happen”
- Attempt to seek revenge or confront a suspect
- Take control
- Discuss the incident with others unless you have permission from the victim (excluding your right to speak with a counselor or ASAP advocate)

HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE POLICY ON BIAS MOTIVATED INCIDENTS

In an effort to create residence hall communities where all residents feel safe and secure, the Department of Housing & Residence Life has adopted the following policies on bias motivated incidents. These policies address the actions of all community members and allow Housing & Residence Life staff to address behavior that is destructive to the University of Northern Colorado community.

Bias incidents involve behavior, whether intentional or unintentional, that is motivated by a person's actual or perceived race, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, ancestry, gender, age or ability.

Bias-motivated crimes are defined as an unlawful discriminatory act on University-owned property or at University-sponsored or University-supervised functions or facilities of recognized student organizations. In Colorado, a criminal offense committed against a person or property which is motivated, in whole or part, by the offender's bias towards a race, religion, ancestry, ethnic/national origin, physical or mental ability, or sexual orientation is a bias-motivated crime. All suspected bias-motivated crimes will be reported to the University of Northern Colorado police.

The State of Colorado defines harassment and bias-motivated crimes in the following manner:

18-9-111. Harassment.

- (1) A person commits harassment if, with intent to harass, annoy, or alarm another person, he or she:
- (a) Strikes, shoves, kicks, or otherwise touches a person or subjects him to physical contact; or in a public place directs obscene language or makes an obscene gesture to or at another person; follows a person in or about a public place; or initiates communication with a person, anonymously or otherwise in a manner intended to harass or threaten bodily injury or property damage, or makes a telephone call or causes a telephone to ring repeatedly, whether or not a conversation ensues, with no purpose of legitimate conversation; or makes repeated communications at inconvenient hours that invade the privacy of another and interfere in the use and enjoyment of another's home or private residence or other private property; or repeatedly insults, taunts, challenges, or makes communications in offensively coarse language to, another in a manner likely to provoke a violent or disorderly response.
- (2) Harassment pursuant to subsection (1) of this section is a class 3 misdemeanor; except that harassment is a class 1 misdemeanor if the offender commits harassment pursuant to subsection (1) of this section with the intent to intimidate or harass another person because of that person's actual or perceived race, color, religion, ancestry, or national origin.

18-9-121. Bias-Motivated crimes.

A person commits a bias-motivated crime if, with the intent to intimidate or harass another person because of that person's actual or perceived race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, physical or mental disability, or sexual orientation, he or she: knowingly causes bodily injury to another person; or by words or conduct, knowingly places another person in fear of imminent lawless action directed at that person or that person's property and such words or conduct are likely to produce bodily injury to that person or damage to that person's property; or knowingly causes damage to or destruction of the property of another person.

University of Northern Colorado policy prohibits any actions that can be defined as being motivated by bias. Bias motivated incidents can occur without intention of harm to others. Students committing a bias-motivated incident or crime may face University disciplinary sanctions and/or criminal prosecution.

Housing & Residence Life Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities

The Department of Housing & Residence Life at the University of Northern Colorado is committed to your success, and the success of all members of our community. It is essential that all members of the community treat others with respect and uphold the standards of conduct set forth over the next section of this handbook.

MISSION OF THE CONDUCT SYSTEM

It is an essential duty of all Housing & Residence Life conduct officers to provide an unbiased and fair environment for the investigation and follow-up of all residence hall student Housing & Residence Life Student Standards of Conduct and University Code of Conduct violation proceedings. All persons will be treated equally by applying a substantial evidence rule to uphold the Housing & Residence Life Standards of Conduct and University of Northern Colorado Code of Conduct. These guiding documents are essential to the formation of a safe and secure environment for all students living on-campus.

The Housing & Residence Life Student Rights and Responsibilities Conduct process is designed to be an educational experience for each student going through the system. Housing & Residence Life hearing officers, who are also qualified to hear University of Northern Colorado Code of Conduct violations for residence hall students, have an understanding of student development and utilize this knowledge when assigning sanctions. All hearing officers apply sanctions to assist in the personal development of the individual student, knowing that even the most punitive sanction has an educational aspect. All conduct officers focus on upholding the primary mission of the University as an institution of higher education.

HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE OFFICE OF STUDENT RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES STUDENT CONDUCT PROCESS

Students at the University of Northern Colorado are expected to comply with all Housing & Residence Life Standards of Conduct and policies printed in the Housing & Residence Life Student Handbook, the University of Northern Colorado Student Rights & Responsibilities Handbook, and other printed materials. Housing & Residence Life departmental policies are designed to promote an academically purposeful, safe and comfortable environment within all residence halls.

As a student moves through the disciplinary process, or repeatedly chooses to violate policies, potential sanctions may become more severe. In addition, the conduct hearing may be heard at progressively higher levels of the Housing & Residence Life administration. The conduct system is a framework for the discipline process to ensure that residence hall communities are built around personal growth, positive community development, and respect. Although the Department of Housing & Residence Life uses the framework outlined below for consistency purposes, the emphasis is on the circumstances and development of the individual student.

* Inclusive Communities * Student Learning * Facility Excellence * Personal Touch *

THE HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE CONDUCT PROCESS – A STEP BY STEP
EXPLANATION OF YOUR RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- A student who is documented for alleged involvement in a policy violation should expect the following response, and has the following responsibilities:
 - Verbal notice of documentation by a Housing & Residence Life staff member. In the case of off-campus violations, a phone call from a front desk receptionist will serve as notice of documentation. At this time, the student may contact the Administrative Assistant or the Hearing Officer to review applicable materials.
 - A Hearing Officer will subsequently review filed documentation and decide specific policies that were allegedly violated.
 - Notification of alleged policy violations will be available within two business days of the documentation and delivered through campus mail. This certified letter will also notify the student of their responsibility to schedule a hearing regarding the alleged policy violations. It is the student's responsibility to read the letter and schedule a hearing by the date noted on the letter.
 - The student must call the Housing & Residence Life Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities to schedule a hearing with a hearing officer. The hearing will be scheduled within 3 business days of the student calling to schedule. During the conduct hearing, filed documentation and related materials will be reviewed with the student. This meeting is the forum for the student to share his/her perspective on the situation.
 - It is the responsibility of the student to make reasonable efforts to check his or her mail after being documented for an alleged policy violation. If reasonable efforts are made by Housing & Residence Life staff to contact the student to pick up the campus certified letter or if the student fails to schedule a hearing as instructed in the letter, a hearing will be conducted in the student's absence.
 - Following the conduct hearing, the student will receive a follow-up letter denoting the student's level of responsibility regarding the alleged policy violations, as well as any related sanctions implemented following the completion of the hearing officer's investigation.
 - Students have the right to appeal sanctions if they have attended an original hearing and feel they have been treated unfairly, or have been sanctioned to any of the following: University Probation, Housing & Residence Life Probation, or Removal from the Residence Hall. Please note, students failing to schedule or attend an original conduct hearing forfeit their right to an appeal unless they are given any of the sanctions listed above. If an eligible student wishes to appeal, he/she must complete a Statement of Appeal form. The Statement of Appeal Forms are available in the Turner Hall Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities and the Housing & Residence Life Main office in Tobey- Kendel Hall. The completed Statement of Appeal form must be returned to the Turner Hall Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities no later than 5 business days following the receipt of the original decision letter.

- An appeal is not a rehearing of a case but an examination of all relevant documents and notes from a student's case. The appeal is reviewed by a Housing & Residence Life administrator, and he/she may affirm the original findings, reverse the original decision, or remand the case to another hearing officer for further deliberation. The appeal officer may request to have the student present for an appeal meeting in which the same procedures will be followed as in a conduct meeting.
- Once an appeal decision has been made, the student will be notified in writing as to the decision of the appeal via a campus certified letter within 10 business days of receipt of the Statement of Appeal.
- While the appeal is being reviewed, the student must comply with any given sanctions and deadlines allotted.

HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE CONDUCT MEETINGS

The conduct meeting is an informal meeting students are required to attend after documentation by a Housing & residence Life staff member or after the Department of Housing & Residence Life receives notification of a University of Northern Colorado Code of Conduct violation. After a student is notified of alleged policy violation, it is his/ her responsibility to schedule a meeting as instructed in the notification letter. Assuming reasonable efforts have been made by Housing & Residence Life staff to notify a student, if a student chooses not to schedule or attend a conduct meeting, a decision will be made in his/her absence.

During a conduct meeting, written documentation of alleged policy violation will be reviewed and discussed with the student. An explanation of the student's rights and responsibilities during the accountability process will also be discussed. The student will be given the opportunity to state their recollection of the incident. A support person may be present with the student during their conduct meeting; however, this person may not speak on behalf of the student during the meeting and may not be an attorney. The hearing officer may contact witnesses if further information is needed.

After considering written documentation and the information gathered during the conduct meeting, the hearing officer will make a decision using the substantial evidence rule as to the student's level of responsibility for the alleged violations. The student will be notified in writing within 3 business days following the conduct meeting as to their level of responsibility in the incident. Any related sanctions will be included in this follow-up letter, which is sent via campus certified mail. The initial documentation of the incident, the information gathered during the conduct meeting, and all communication with the student will remain on file with the Department of Housing & Residence Life.

The Dean of Students, the Executive Director of Auxiliary and Student Services, the Associate Director of Housing & Residence Life, and/or an Assistant Director of Housing & Residence Life will be the designated University Hearing Officers for serious incidents on a University level for students whose status with the University is in jeopardy.

STUDENT OFFICE OF STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES RECORDS AND DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

The Department of Housing & Residence Life maintains an accountability file for any student who has been accused on a Housing & Residence Life information report or a police report. These records are kept on file in the Housing & Residence Life office of Student Rights & Responsibilities. Depending on the nature and severity of the incident, the student's file may be copied and kept with the educational record for that student. The University keeps an educational record for each student who is or has been enrolled at the University. Any accountability information that is not severe enough to be placed in a student's educational file is kept in the Department of Housing & Residence Life for 5 years for accountability and student history information purposes.

The University of Northern Colorado adhered to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 and its amendments regarding student rights and the disclosure of information. Please refer to the UNC publication, Student Rights and Responsibilities for more information regarding the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

EXAMPLES OF POTENTIAL OUTCOMES AND SANCTIONS

The following are examples of potential outcomes and sanctions stemming from a conduct meeting. The sanctions listed are only examples, and should not be considered an exhaustive list of potential sanctions for policy violations. Each student's case is investigated individually and the potential educational benefits of sanctions are weighed against the facts of the investigation. Hearing officers are allowed to develop educational sanctions based on the student's history, policy violations, and the circumstances of each violation. For this reason students with similar violations but different circumstances may have different sanctions/outcomes following their conduct meeting.

- Not Responsible: This outcome is delivered when a student has been found not responsible for alleged violations.
- Written Warning: Written notification indicates behavior in violation of Housing & Residence Life Standards of Conduct. This is official notice that further misconduct may result in more severe sanctions.
- Online Alcohol/ Drug Assessment: An online alcohol or drug assessment and educational course may be used for low-level, first-time alcohol or drug violations without extenuating circumstances or where the student does not show indications of significant risk to themselves or others. The Department of Housing & Residence Life utilizes the 3rd Millennium Classrooms: Under the Influence and Marijuana 101 courses, which both cost $35.00 to be paid by the student.
- Alcohol/Drug Education Course: A 6-hour educational workshop designed to provide students with social norming related to alcohol/drug use, and educational material related to the risks involved in alcohol/drug use/abuse. These classes may be taken through the UNC Drug, Alcohol, and Tobacco Education (D.A.T.E.) Office or through Island Grove Behavioral Health Center and have a minimum cost of $70.00 to the student.
- Alcohol/Drug/Psychological Health Assessment: This sanction, typically to be completed through the University of Northern Colorado Counseling Center, is given for repeat offense or when there is concern for the safety and well-being of the student.

- Alcohol/Drug Testing: Alcohol/drug testing may be used to provide outside support to a student in lieu of administrative removal or suspension for students who have been involved in repeated or excessive consumption type alcohol violations, or for any incident involving drug use.
- Parent/Guardian Notification: Housing & Residence Life staff may contact the parents/legal guardians of dependant children involved in any alcohol or drug violations, if a student is transported to Detox, or if there is an alcohol/drug related hospitalization.
- Community Restitution: Community restitution is used as an educational sanction when a student's policy violation has negatively impacted the community or in conjunction with criminal charges assessed by law enforcement. Housing & Residence Life administrative processes remain separate from any criminal charges a student may face, but University hearing officers may assign sanctions on behalf of the University that will also satisfy the requirements of the court. Community restitution may be performed on-campus through the Department of Housing & Residence Life Housing Services or at one of many off-campus locations. If community restitution is expected to be part of the separate criminal charges (as with a Minor in Possession/Consumption Ticket) the restitution must take place at a location approved by the Weld County Court System.
- Community Billing for Damages: In the case of damages to a community where the responsible party is unknown, all community members may be charged equally for repair/ replacement of damaged items. All reasonable efforts will be made to identify responsible parties; however, community members are expected to cooperate with investigations of vandalism and report any suspected individuals directly to Housing & Residence Life staff.
- Restitution for Damages: Restitution will be assessed for theft, vandalism, or other damages to personal property and/or University property.
- Behavioral Agreement: A behavioral agreement may be used when a student needs clear guidelines for acceptable behavior. This document outlines expectations for future behavior, and potential consequences if the behavioral guidelines are not followed. This document is kept with the student's Housing & Residence Life judicial file, and, depending on the severity of the incident, may be filed with the student's educational record.
- Housing & Residence Life Probation: This sanction indicates that a student is no longer in good standing within the housing system. Further violations may result in more severe sanctions, such as removal from the residence halls, University probation, or suspension.
- Administrative Relocation: Administrative relocation will be used when a student has significantly disrupted the community, but has the potential to be a successful member of another community in a different housing facility. A student who is administratively moved may not have a choice in the new housing facility to which they are assigned, and further involvement in policy violations will result in more severe sanctions, such as administrative removal from the residence halls or suspension.

- Administrative Removal: This sanction formally suspends the housing contract of the student, without refund.
- Denial of Access: This sanction prevents a student from entering specified areas for a specified amount of time.
- University Probation: This sanction signifies that a student is on disciplinary probation with the University. University probation may be general or strict, and may include certain behavioral stipulations. If a student is involved in another policy violation while on University probation, the next disciplinary action is typically suspension.
- Summary Suspension/Interim Removal: This action temporarily removes a student from housing/ the University pending a Housing & Residence Life conduct meeting or a hearing through the Dean of Students Office. In this case, the student is responsible for finding alternative housing at his/her expense.
- Suspension: This sanction removes a student from the university system until given sanctioning requirements are met, or for a specified period of time.

HOUSING & RESIDENCE LIFE STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The following is a description of the Standards of Conduct currently enforced by the Department of Housing & Residence Life in the residence halls. Community standards have been established to support an environment balancing individual expression, personal development, and an academically focused atmosphere. It is your responsibility to abide by the standards of conduct set forth in this manual. Additionally, certain behaviors may constitute a violation of state and federal statutes, and any sanctions imposed by the Department of Housing & Residence Life are separate from any fines or sanctions imposed through the legal system. If you have questions regarding any of the following standards of conduct, it is your responsibility to discuss them with Housing & Residence Life staff in your hall (i.e. your Resident Assistant, Assistant Hall Director, or Hall Director).

RESIDENCE HALL SPACE

The residence halls are defined as all physical space within a residence hall, including public areas and student rooms, and reasonable exterior spaces designed for, or typically used by residence hall students. Students within the residence hall space are expected to abide by Housing & Residence Life policies and standards of conduct. If a policy violation occurs within a residence hall space, students will be subject to disciplinary action as outlined in this handbook.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY AND IMPLIED CONSENT

In the event of a policy violation occurring in a room, lounge, or other distinct physical space, all students in the space can be held responsible for the behavior or objects within that space. Students residing in, or choosing to place themselves in, the residence hall environment become part of a community and their actions have an impact on the surrounding community. Therefore, students may be held accountable for behavior or objects even if they are not participating in the situation.

Every residence hall student has responsibilities to the residence hall community. Your responsibilities include:

- Considering the needs and rights of all residents, in balance with your own needs. Your personal rights end where the rights of another student begin, and no student should infringe on the rights of another student.
- Open communication with all community members and Housing & Residence Life staff.
- Getting involved in your community through residence hall government, planning of community activities, showing respect and care for facilities, and exhibiting care for the overall community.
- Promoting an environment where all individuals and community members feel safe and secure.
- Demonstrating dignity and respect for all individuals.

Disregarding any of the above responsibilities, or failing to act when other individuals violate community responsibilities or policies is providing your implied consent for those activities.

UNC STUDENT CONDUCT CODE VIOLATIONS

All students enrolled at the University of Northern Colorado are held to the standards of conduct set forth in the Student Conduct Code.
