Abstract:

This collection consists of sixteen 8"x10" acetate negatives of exterior and interior views of the Library at Colorado State College of Education (now the University of Northern Colorado).

Scope and Content Note:

This collection consists of sixteen 8"x10" acetate negatives of exterior and interior views of the Library at Colorado State College of Education (now the University of Northern Colorado). Although there has been some deterioration on these negatives, they are in fairly good condition. Archival Services staff has scanned the negatives.

Historical Note:

A separate library building, based on Thomas Jefferson's Monticello, was constructed in 1907. A major remodel of the library building was completed in 1940. The architectural style transformed from the classical to the "moderne". The building was renamed Carter Hall in 1944. Carter Hall was named for Albert Frank Carter, who served as University librarian from 1901-1934 and was co-author of Forty Years of Colorado State Teachers College, formerly the State Normal RG3 S20-4hool of Colorado, 1890-1930.
