

University of Northern Colorado
Vacancy Announcement
School of Human Sciences

Title: Assistant Professor, Community Health,
Position Number: F99392 & F99907

Job Summary

Seeking two individuals to fill two Assistant Professor, tenure-track, 9-month appointments in the Community Health program in the School of Human Sciences at the University of Northern Colorado (UNC). The Community Health program offers an MPH as one of three partner institutions that make up the CEPH accredited Colorado School of Public Health (CSPH). All faculty members in the Community Health program are eligible for appointment as adjunct faculty of the University of Colorado Denver in the Colorado School of Public Health. Faculty members in Community Health also collaborate with the Gerontology and Human Rehabilitation programs at UNC to offer an undergraduate degree in Human Services. The position requires undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising, including supervision of graduate research, scholarly activity, development of external funding and service to the program, CSPH, school, college, university and profession.

Minimum Qualifications

This position requires an earned Doctorate in Health Education, Public Health or a closely related field by the position start date, experience in public health practice, ability to teach courses in core public health areas and evidence of potential for excellence in teaching, scholarship and professional service.

Preferred Qualifications

Preference will be given to applicants with one or more of the following qualifications: MPH/DrPH degree, demonstrated effectiveness in university teaching (faculty/TA), demonstrated use of a variety of teaching methods, including service learning and community engagement, experience with collaborative partnerships on an interdisciplinary and community level, and evidence of expertise in cultural competence and working with marginalized populations.

Salary and Benefits

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits available include health, life, and dental insurance, as well as a selection of several defined contribution retirement programs. Dependents and spouses of UNC employees who are employed as 0.5 FTE or above are entitled to and eligible for Dependent Tuition Grants. These tuition grants will cover in-state tuition charges. Further requirements may exist. Other benefits may be available based on position. Opportunities for summer instruction may be available.

Requested Start Date:

August 15, 2011.

Application Materials, Contact, and Application Deadline:

Screening of applications will begin on January 18, 2011 and will continue until the position is filled. Interested persons should apply online at <https://careers.unco.edu> and select “View/Apply for Faculty Positions” then choose “Assistant Professor – Community Health.” Application documents to be submitted online are a letter of application/cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information of at least three references. A statement of teaching/research interests also should be submitted via the online application process in the “Other Document” category. In addition to the material provided online, please send unofficial copies of terminal degree transcript and three letters of recommendation to: Dr. Liz Gilbert, Chair Search and Screen Committee (99392), Community Health, University of Northern Colorado, Campus Box 93, 501 20th Street, Greeley, CO 80639.

Additional Requirements:

Satisfactory completion of a background check, educational check, and authorization to work in the United States is required after a conditional offer of employment has been made. The successful candidate must submit original transcripts within one (1) month of hire.

Location and Environment:

The University of Northern Colorado is a Doctoral/Research University enrolling 12,000+ graduate and undergraduate students. The University, founded in 1889, is located in Greeley, Colorado, which has a growing population of 80,000. Greeley is an hour north of Denver and 30 miles east of the Rocky Mountains. Further information about UNC and the City of Greeley is available at <http://www.unco.edu> . The Colorado School of Public Health is the only school of public health in the nine-state region of the Rocky Mountain west. It is comprised of Colorado’s premier public institutions: the University of Colorado Denver, Colorado State University, and the University of Northern Colorado. CSPH faculty and students span multiple campuses and disciplines, making the school a true collaboration of programs, people and places. This unique partnership is committed to building an inclusive, culturally competent student body, faculty, staff and school leadership. Further information about the Colorado School of Public Health is available at <http://ucdenver.edu/academics/colleges/PublicHealth/Pages/welcome.aspx>

Additional Information:

This position is contingent on funding from the Colorado State Legislature, approval by the Board of Trustees, and subject to the policies and regulations of the University of Northern Colorado. Federal regulations require that the University retain all documents submitted by applicants. Materials will not be returned or copied for applicants.

The University of Northern Colorado is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution that does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status. For more information or issues of equity or fairness or claims of discrimination contact the UNC AA/EEO/Title IX Officer at UNC Human Resource Services, Campus Box 54, Carter Hall 2002, Greeley, CO 80639, or call 970-351-2718.