The Retired Senior and Volunteer Program is in compliance with all HIPPA regulations concerning the confidentiality of client and volunteer information we maintain. As part of your volunteer service you may be exposed to individually identifiable information, such as social security numbers tied to names and addresses. Such information is covered by numerous statutes that require confidentiality of the information. These include the Health and Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, the Family Educational Rights and Privileges Act and similar legislation. It is essential that the information remain confidential

In compliance with HIPPA regulations, I agree to keep all client and volunteer information that I may come in contact with confidential. I will not copy, distribute or use this information in any manner other than by which it is disclosed to me.
