SON Governance and Student Organizations

Nursing Faculty Student Organization (NFSO)

The governance structure is guided by the School of Nursing by-laws, adopted by faculty. The by-laws have been revised throughout the years; the last revision was completed in 2021.

This is a committee of all SON faculty plus student representatives from all levels. It meets several times per semester for communication of information and for decision making regarding Nursing program policies. In addition, there are subcommittees which also meet every semester for Graduate Affairs (policies and issues for graduate programs) and Graduate Curriculum (curriculum development, implementation, and evaluation). Student representatives have full voice and vote in all these meetings with the exception of declared executive sessions.

Student representatives receive the meeting agendas and minutes via email. NFSO and subcommittee meetings are open for any interested student to attend. They are often scheduled on Friday mornings or afternoons (check with a faculty member or the office staff for dates).

Graduate nursing students annually select one or more representatives to attend meetings of the NFSO, the Graduate Leadership Team (GLT), and the Graduate Curriculum Committee (GCO). Be sure you know who your representative is. All students are encouraged to contact their representatives in person, in writing, by email or by phone to share questions and feedback about programs and issues.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION IN THE GOVERNANCE OF THE SCHOOL OF NURSING

Students are elected by their peers to represent them at meetings of the Nursing Faculty-Student Organization and its subcommittees. Faculty value student input and hope that students take appropriate advantage of the opportunities to participate.

UNC Graduate Student Association (GSA)

Course and Faculty Evaluations

Near the end of each semester students will receive an email to complete course and faculty evaluations in Canvas. Timely completion of the evaluations each semester is an extremely important part of our accreditation process and assists in our program review including faculty and curriculum. This is a great opportunity to share both positive and constructive feedback that can be utilized to shape the nursing student experience for you as well as future cohorts. All evaluations are anonymous and confidential.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Use Statements

Each course syllabus will have a statement about the extent that AI can be used in specific courses.

I. No Use of Generative AI Permitted

Sample: AI Writing tools are not permitted for any stage of work in this class. If you use these tools, your actions would be considered academically dishonest and a violation of Bryant's Academic Honesty Policy.

Sample: Intellectual honesty is vital to an academic community and for my fair evaluation of your work. All work submitted in this course must be your own, completed in accordance with the University's academic regulations. You may not engage in unauthorized collaboration or make use of ChatGPT or other AI composition software.

II. Use of Generative AI Permitted Under Some Circumstances or With Explicit Permission

Sample: There are situations and contexts within this course where you will be asked to use AI tools to explore how they can be used. Outside of those circumstances, you are discouraged from using AI tools to generate content (text, video, audio, images) that will end up in any student work (assignments, activities, responses, etc) that is part of your evaluation in this course. Any student work submitted using AI tools should clearly indicate what work is the student's work, and what part is generated by the AI. In such cases, no more than 25% of the student work should be generated by AI. If any part of this is confusing or uncertain, please reach out to me for a conversation before submitting your work. (from Colorado University system)

III. Broader Use of Generative AI Permitted Within Guidelines

Sample: AI Writing tools such as ChatGPT are welcome in this class, provided that you cite when and how you use the tool. You will be provided with examples of how to cite your use of this tool in your writing.

Sample: In all academic work, the ideas and contributions of others must be appropriately acknowledged and work that is presented as original must be, in fact, original. Using an AI-content generator (such as ChatGPT) to complete coursework without proper attribution or authorization is a form of academic dishonesty. If you are unsure about whether something may be plagiarism or academic dishonesty, please contact your instructor to discuss the issue.

TurnItIn is used in Canvas courses for submission of written work including written comprehensive exams.

POLICY TITLE:Academic Appeals*Last Revision/Review Date: 10/18/19 ULT/NFSOPrevious Review Dates: 9/92, 2/20/98 JR; 12/01; 2/07; 12/6/10 NFSO; 11/12 GLT; 10/21/15 GLT / 2-2016 NFSO; 10/18/19 ULT/NFSOOriginal Policy Date: 11/12/2014Sponsoring Committee(s): School Leadership Team

DESCRIPTION:

The purpose of the procedures outlined below is to provide the student with guidance for appealing an academic decision that they consider arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to university policy, which are the reasons acceptable to the University for appealing. Before utilizing these procedures, or between any of the appeals steps outlined below, the student is encouraged to seek advice from their academic advisor. It is further recommended that attempts at mediation between student and instructor be pursued.

Procedures for implementation of this policy are based on UNC Board Policy, specifically Academic Appeals Policy and Procedure (Policies 2-1-201 - 2-1-204). The student must follow the Steps for Appeal as set forth in 2-1-204 of UNC Board Policy.

PROCEDURE:

1. The student is encouraged to set up an informal conference with the instructor involved for the purpose of trying to resolve a grievance before the initiation of the formal academic appeals process.
2. If no resolution is reached in Step 1, the student may then move forward with a formal appeal. The student is recommended to meet with the Assistant Director of their respective program to discuss the situation and be advised on the formal appeal process set forth in University Board Policy (Policies 2-1-201 - 2-1-204).
3. The formal appeal must be initiated in writing to the faculty member within 21 working days after the end of the semester or session in which the action occurred.
4. If the problem remains unresolved, the student may request a conference and submit a written appeal to the SON Director within 7 working days from the response from the faculty member. The Director will confer with the faculty member whose action is being appealed. The formal appeal process, as set forth in Board Policy, will then be followed for the remaining steps of the process.

Previous Review Dates:

Original Policy Date: 11/15/17 GLT

Sponsoring Committee(s): Graduate Leadership Team

DESCRIPTION:

At the discretion of the instructor, a temporary grade of Incomplete "I" may be given if the student demonstrates an inability to complete the requirements of the course due to circumstances beyond the student's control that were not reasonably foreseeable.

PROCEDURE:

1. The student must request the I (incomplete) grade with justification of circumstances beyond their control.
2. A student must be passing the course at the time that an Incomplete is requested unless the instructor determines that there are extenuating circumstances to assign an Incomplete even if not passing the course.
3. The incomplete may be assigned up through the last week of the term, which includes finals week.
4. A contract must be completed, which is attached to this policy, to indicate outstanding assignments, a plan and a deadline for all course requirements to be completed. The instructor must submit to the department chair or school director, a written notice of the specific coursework to be completed before the final grade is determined as well as reasons for the Incomplete grade; a copy is kept in the school/department and one is provided to the student.
5. With a grade of "I", credits are not used to compute grade point average (GPA) and are not counted towards graduation.
6. When completing an Incomplete grade, the student does NOT register for the course a second time.
7. When the contract is successfully completed, the instructor of record must change the grade from I to the grade earned in the course, according to the grade change policy, submitting the grade change request form to the Office of the Registrar.
8. If the course requirements are not completed and the grade change form not received in the Office of the Registrar after a maximum of one year, the grade will be recorded on the academic record as a failing or unsatisfactory grade. Once the incomplete grade has rolled to failing/unsatisfactory, a further grade change will not be permitted.
9. Degrees will not be conferred upon students with outstanding "I" grades.

Progress Review of Doctoral Students

Last Revision/Review Date: 3/24/17 NFSO
Previous Review Dates: 12/4/15 NFSO; 3/3/17 GLT
Original Policy Date: 3/9/15
Sponsoring Committee(s): Graduate Leadership Team

DESCRIPTION:

Conforming with the Graduate School's policy to do an annual progress review for all doctoral students, the annual progress review's goal is to provide the doctoral student encouragement to continue in the program, provide remediation recommendations, or recommend termination. See UNC graduate catalog at <https://unco.smartcatalogiq.com/2016-2017/Graduate-Catalog/Program-Requirements/Doctoral-Degree-Requirements> - Review (2016-2017 catalog).

PROCEDURE:

Student Role: Each doctoral student will complete a self-evaluation each fall. The self-evaluation link, generated by the student services coordinator, will be sent to the doctoral students by their program coordinator 2 weeks before the end of the semester. Student failure to complete this review by the end of the semester may result in delay in program progression.

Faculty Role: The faculty for each doctoral course will complete an evaluation for each student through an evaluation link generated by the student services coordinator at the end of each semester when grades are submitted. The link will be forwarded to the faculty by the assistant director of graduate programs 2 weeks before the end of the semester.

Program Coordinator Role: The doctoral program coordinator will collate the results for each student to bring to the annual review meeting scheduled for the first Graduate Leadership Team (GLT) meeting each spring.

Graduate Leadership Team (GLT) Role: The GLT committee will review the faculty responses which include student grades and the student self-evaluations, and previous progress review summaries at a spring meeting before the graduate school due date. GLT's goal is to develop and provide a summary of the student's strengths and area(s) for improvement. Emphasis should be placed on acknowledging accomplishments and professional growth where appropriate. The program coordinator will send out the progress review summary letter to each doctoral student and place in their student file. If there are concerns about the student's progress/academic performance, the program coordinator will schedule a live conversation with the student about the issues at hand prior to the letter being sent.

POLICY TITLE:

Progression in Graduate Programs

Last Revision/Review Date: 10/13/23 NFSO
Previous Review Dates: 1/13/17 KH; 2/3/17 NFSO; 10/18/19 GLT
Original Policy Date: 3/9/15
Sponsoring Committee(s): Graduate Leadership Team

DESCRIPTION:

Successful completion of the graduate nursing programs requires a minimum grade of 'B' in each course, satisfactory grade in each clinical course, and completion of applicable graduate school requirements (e.g. comprehensive exams, proposal and final dissertation/DNP scholarly project defenses). The student will not be able to complete any additional course work in the clinical portion of their program of study until the clinical course in question has been successfully completed. The student may not graduate without all of these requirements met satisfactorily.

PROCEDURE:

Unsatisfactory course work and retake procedures:

One didactic or clinical course may be repeated if the grade is lower than a 'B' or Unsatisfactory. The graduate comprehensive exams (written/oral) allow for one retake. The repeated course will be recorded on the student's transcript and both letter grades will count towards the cumulative grade point average. If the student does not receive a 'B' or higher in a didactic course or Satisfactory grade in a clinical course on the repeat attempt, progression in the graduate program is not adequate and program termination will be recommended by GLT to the Graduate School.

A second grade below a "B" or "Unsatisfactory" in any additional course will be cause for program termination recommendation.

If the student receives lower than a 'B' or Unsatisfactory in two courses in the same semester, then program termination will be recommended by GLT.

To appeal a grade, the student shall follow the academic appeals policy and procedure.

Completion of dissertation and DNP Scholarly project credits:

PhD students: Students must satisfactorily complete both Written AND Oral Comprehensive exams before enrolling in N799 Dissertation Credits. Students must also have completed 4 N797 credits. In the semester where the oral examination is planned, depending on readiness for dissertation proposal, one credit of N799 may be taken, based on consultation with the Research Advisor (RA). Students will work collaboratively with the RA regarding enrollment/spacing of N799 credits. Students may also enroll in 1 credits of N799 in the semester they are completing the written exam if all 4 N797 credits have been completed.

DNP students: Students must take N727 (DNP Scholarly Project Proposal) prior to registering for N798 (DNP Practicum) credit hours. Students must meet with the DNP Program Coordinator to discuss/request registration for ALL N798 credit hours. This discussion will include the specific number of credit hours of N798 that the student will be cleared for registration. Course overrides will be required to register for all N798 hours. DNP Students may request an exception and register for N727 and N798 hours in the same semester. Students will contact the DNP Coordinator with requests for exceptions to take N727 and N798 concurrently. The Written Comprehensive Exam may be completed during N727 enrollment. The Oral Comprehensive Exam (Final DNP Scholarly Project Defense) will ONLY be completed while actively registered for N798. The student will submit a timeline for completion of N798 credits.

DESCRIPTION:

There are two milestone examinations for all graduate students in the Doctoral Program of the School of Nursing. The first examination may be taken after successful completion of at least 36 hours of doctoral coursework is the School-administered Comprehensive Written Examination. Once the student successfully passes the written exam, they are eligible for the second School-administered Oral Comprehensive Examination. Policy and procedure for the examinations are detailed in the graduate school catalog at <http://unco.smartcatalogiq.com/en/current/Graduate-Catalog/Program-Requirements/Doctoral-Degree-Requirements>. The format of each examination is outlined below.

Comprehensive Written Examination

The Comprehensive Written Examination is a broad-based, written examination covering the program content provided by the required coursework. The purpose of the examination is for the student to demonstrate a comprehensive, critical analysis and scholarly synthesis of content in the areas of nursing theory/philosophy, nursing research methods, nursing pedagogy and leadership/policy. Passing the examination indicates that the student has acquired a suitable foundation for undertaking high level research in the discipline. These exams test for competency in the required courses.

Procedures

The written comprehensive examination is designed, administered and evaluated by the graduate faculty members of the School of Nursing. The Written Examination may not be taken until the student has provided evidence to the PhD Program Coordinator that they have:

- filed an approved plan of study with the graduate school,
- completed at least 36 semester hours of work applicable toward the PhD degree and successfully completed all the required coursework (except electives and dissertation hours),
- passed all coursework with a grade of "B" or better in the doctoral program,
- has constituted a doctoral committee approved by the graduate school,
- obtained approval from the Dissertation Research Advisor to take the exam, and
- submitted SON Request for Written Comprehensive Examination (In Handbook)

The student, in collaboration with the Research Advisor, is responsible for scheduling the date of the written examination and will submit the Request to Schedule the Written Comprehensive Examination to the PhD Program Coordinator. The doctoral student shall not have prior access to the written examination questions. The PhD Program Coordinator has the responsibility of compiling the questions for the written examination and posting the questions for the student, enabling the use of Turnitin, LLC., on Canvas.

Each semester there will be a scheduled review panel of three faculty members to review all written examinations within that semester. If the student wishes to take the examination over a holiday or interim session, a date mutually agreed upon by the student and Research Advisor will be determined, and the student will be informed of the timeline for providing feedback. The PhD Program Coordinator will receive the feedback from the Review Panel, will complete the documentation and then forward the materials to the Research Advisor and student.

The student will have one week (7 days) to respond to the assigned questions in no more than 20 pages total, excluding references. The student will then post the exam to the Canvas course (Nursing PhD Comprehensive Examinations) through the feature that is set up for each student in order to assess for plagiarism and appropriate citation. All responses to the exam questions must be typed using current APA format for text, citations and references. Papers will be evaluated for professional level writing skills including organization, clarity of thought, grammar, spelling, punctuation and APA formatting (the use of a running head is not necessary and be sure no identifiers are on the paper). Plagiarism and AI generated content detection software will be utilized.

A review panel of three graduate nursing faculty members will be designated by the PhD Program Coordinator each semester to evaluate written comprehensive examination submissions that have been completed during the semester prior to the review panel meeting. The review panel will be blinded to the name of the student. Written feedback will be provided by the panel to the PhD Program Coordinator for recording and then sent to the Research Advisor who will summarize for the student. Written feedback will be provided to the student within one (1) week of the panel's decision. Written feedback to the student, using the evaluation rubric, will include suggestions for areas of focus for the oral examination, or areas in which the student's response could be strengthened. The PhD Coordinator will communicate the results to the student and the Research Advisor as having achieved "pass" or "fail" on the written exam. If the student fails the written comprehensive exam, they will be required to retake the written comprehensive exam. The number and focus of questions for the retake will be determined by the review panel based on the student's performance on the written comprehensive exam. Recommendations and suggested remediation will be provided to the student by the panel and Research Advisor.

Please note that a retake of the entire examination (both questions) may not be scheduled during the same semester that the original examination was completed. Failure of the examination retake will result in the termination of the student's degree program. The remediation plan will be kept in the student file. The exam must be retaken within 1 year.

Once the examination has been evaluated, the PhD Coordinator will send the results, and the original comprehensive examination document, to the Research Advisor (RA). The RA will return the signed results of the comprehensive exam form to the Graduate Program Management Specialist, who will forward the results to the Graduate School, copying the PhD Program Coordinator, indicating the outcome of the examination.

After passing the written comprehensive examination, each doctoral student must pass an oral comprehensive examination. Permission for the oral comprehensive examination will not be released and the oral examination will not be authorized until the written examination report is filed with the Graduate School indicating that the student passed the written examination. The results of the written comprehensive examination and scheduling of the oral comprehensive exam must be communicated to the Graduate School at least two weeks prior to the date of the actual oral comprehensive examination.

If a student's exam is opened and they are unable to complete the exam due to extenuating circumstances (significant illness, family emergency, natural disaster, etc.) the exam will be closed and the student will reschedule the exam. If the student has one question completed they may submit one question. A second exam will be scheduled and the student will be provided with either one or two different exam questions on the second attempt. This process may be completed two times. If a student is unable to complete the written exam on a third attempt the student will be dismissed from the program.

Exam Integrity

Intellectual honesty is vital to an academic community and for a fair evaluation of the written comprehensive exam, which is intended to be a summative assessment of the student's ability to synthesize all the coursework in fulfillment of the doctoral degree. All work submitted for the written exam must be the student's individual work, completed in accordance with the University's academic regulations. Students are not allowed to engage in unauthorized collaboration or make use of ChatGPT, Microsoft Pilot, Google Gemini or other AI composition software.

Comprehensive Oral Examinations

The Oral Comprehensive Exam in the School of Nursing is an assessment of the student's understanding of knowledge considered by the graduate nursing faculty to be necessary for doctoral level scholarship, the student's ability to communicate ideas in a clear, coherent, and organized manner, and student's readiness to begin the doctoral dissertation. The comprehensive oral examination requires full Dissertation Committee participation and may be scheduled face-to-face or via virtual technology.

The purpose of the examination is to:

- A. Evaluate the student's knowledge and understanding of subject matter covered in the written examination (e.g. emphasis may be placed on topics in which the written comprehensive readers panel requested more information or clarification of student's responses to the written examination question(s),
- B. Evaluate the student's knowledge and understanding of their research concept of interest,
- C. Provide feedback on student's presentation of a preliminary plan of research, and
- D. Evaluate the student's ability to respond, in a scholarly and professional manner, to a variety of verbal questions.

Procedures

The student shall not have prior access to specific oral examination questions. However, upon the student's request, general information about the type of questions to be asked may be given to the student by members of the Dissertation committee.

The Graduate School will approve and publicize the examination date, time and place in UNC TODAY or in any other appropriate university publication. All members of the UNC faculty are invited to attend and may ask questions of the student after the committee members finish their questioning. Other graduate students may also attend with permission from the chairperson of the committee.

The Doctoral Student is responsible for:

- 1) contacting the dissertation committee and coordinating the date and time of the comprehensive oral examination in concert with the Dissertation Research Advisor,
- 2) completing the Request to Schedule Doctoral Examination form found on the Graduate School web site and forwarding to the Dissertation Research Advisor (3 weeks ahead is recommended).
- 3) submitting to the committee two weeks prior to the scheduled exam:
 - a. a substantive presentation* that will include
 - i. Summary of responses to the questions, comments, or concerns of the written comprehensive exam reviewers
 - b. Preliminary/exploratory discussion
 - i. introduction of the phenomenon of interest for the student's research
 - ii. explanation of why this is an important area of study for nursing, identification of a problem
 - iii. a brief literature review including identification of a gap in our understanding of the phenomenon,
 - iv. potential research questions that would close the gap in literature,
 - v. identification of a preliminary research design that would align with the proposed research question,
 - vi. preliminary ideas about data collection (who, what kind, when, how, where)-

The Dissertation Research Advisor will serve as chairperson of the oral comprehensive examination committee and will:

- 1) arrange a room for the oral examination, and
- 2) send copies of the written comprehensive exam and feedback to all committee members and
- 3) inform the PhD Program Coordinator for notification of Graduate School by forwarding a completed Request to Schedule Doctoral Examination form two weeks (14 calendar days) before the exam date (3 weeks is recommended).

The student's performance on the oral examination will be evaluated by the Dissertation Committee on only the response to the written examination questions as denoted above*:

Pass: If the student passes the examination, the program advisor must obtain the signatures of at least three-fourths of the committee members on the Report of the Oral Comprehensive Examination form and return the form to the Graduate School.

Pass with Conditions: If the student is evaluated as will pass if meets stated conditions, the report stating the conditions must be signed and returned to the Graduate School. The student must subsequently meet the stated conditions. No student will be admitted to candidacy until at least three-fourths of the committee affirms that the conditions have been met. Conditions must be met within 1 year.

Fail: If the student's performance was unsatisfactory, the report must be signed and returned to the Graduate School. The student may retake the oral examination during a subsequent semester. At this point, the membership of the student's committee may not be altered without approval by the Graduate School. Failure to pass the oral retest or failure to meet conditions specified after an oral retest will terminate the student's degree program. If the student failed the examination with no retake permitted, the report must be signed and returned to the Graduate School. The Graduate School will terminate the degree program, and the student will not be permitted to do further work or take further examinations in that degree program.

THE EVALUATION RUBRICS FOR BOTH THE WRITTEN AND ORAL EXAMINATION ARE ATTACHED.

Written Comprehensive Exam: Preparation Hints

The Written Comprehensive exam is an opportunity to demonstrate your ability to synthesize a wide range of information from the discipline and your informed thoughts and opinions about important issues in nursing and nursing education.

For the exam you will be preparing a response to two complex questions over a 7-day time period. The questions will be posted when your examination starts as determined by you and your Research Advisor (dissertation committee chair). Each question will reflect an integration of the School of Nursing program outcomes.

To answer the two questions, you are encouraged to use information from the variety of courses you have taken through your program at UNC. The primary strategy related to studying or remediating content knowledge is the organization and review of course materials and additional readings. There are several ways to do this – a filing system and annotated bibliographies are suggested. Students need a broad review of course material to be able to demonstrate their synthesis and application of knowledge in written comps. If you don't have time during the semesters of coursework to make connections between various aspects of the content, it will be important to make time for that before you attempt the written comps.

A number of students have requested sample questions, which are available to you on the PhD Canvas site, PhD Nsg Students_Supp, in the "Module" entitled PhD Comprehensive examinations. The assessment form that faculty readers use is included in this handbook, and you can use that for peer review. Of note also, you will see that some of the past questions were clearly specific content focused whereas, for the last several years the questions are more integrative.

One final suggestion is to proactively use an elective to prepare for comps. For example, some students have indicated that taking an additional research methods course was helpful for the integration and synthesis of research content, and of course could be very helpful to support your dissertation study design and implementation.

Some students have reported that test anxiety was a concern, and if so, it is a good idea to develop some strategies for managing that before you take written comps. You must be organized and able to think well for long stretches of that 7-day period, and too much anxiety impairs thought processes.

When grading the exam, the graduate faculty will be looking at your ability to synthesize information you have covered throughout your program and your ability to write clearly and concisely. Each question will be evaluated on content, critical thinking skill, overall writing style, and synthesis. Sometimes, students have had difficulty with depth and clarity in answering the questions posed. Make sure that your ideas and statements are connected throughout your paper and that you do not have any loose ends.

Finally, you are required to write the exam using proper APA format, citations, and references. It would be very helpful to review these specifics prior to the exam if needed. Some students find it helpful to have an MS Word document, or use a citation program, with references ready (in proper APA format), so you can easily select and add the applicable ones to your comprehensive exam reference pages after the writing is completed.

We wish you all the best and hope that our efforts to provide you information about the comprehensive and past questions for preparation does not overwhelm you, but instead...facilitates your success.

Research Proposal and Dissertation

A dissertation proposal and final dissertation should be developed pertaining to a significant topic in the student's major and is required of all PhD students. The dissertation proposal must be presented to the student's committee and the Graduate School for approval prior to engaging in data collection. IRB approval is also required prior to beginning data collection. Students in the School of Nursing PhD program have the option of writing a traditional dissertation or using the Nursing discipline specific alternative format. This decision should be made in consultation with the student's dissertation chair.

When the chair and the student feel the proposal is ready for defense, the student schedules a time and day with the full committee to defend the proposal. The student should send an electronic copy (or hard copy if faculty prefers) of the proposal at least 2 weeks prior to the defense. The chair will assist with scheduling of a room. Per the Graduate School policy, "Attendance at Doctoral Examinations Doctoral students' oral comprehensive, proposal and final dissertation/capstone defense examinations require the attendance of the student and all committee members, including the faculty representative, external and honorary members. Attendance, for the purpose of this policy, is defined as either a physical/in-person presence on campus or an electronic presence (e.g. telephone/conference call, video conferencing [Teams®, Zoom®] or other online meeting platform."

The student must bring to the proposal defense the Proposal Title Page for Doctoral Dissertation Proposal using the current form found on the Graduate School web site (see link #2 below). The committee members, upon successful completion of the defense, will sign this title page. The student must send the following forward to the Graduate School: a final copy (in Word or PDF format) including any required revisions; the signed title page for Doctoral Dissertation Proposal, the Verification of Research Subject Compliance form along with the IRB or IACUC approval if applicable.

Approval of the dissertation proposal establishes the expectations for the final dissertation and assures agreement among the committee with the student's methods and research strategy prior to proceeding. The proposal defense allows the committee to introduce required changes or additions to a student's proposed project while changes are still possible. Once the committee approves the proposal and IRB approval is given, no changes may be made to the methods and procedures of the study without another review.

When the Research Advisor and the student feel the dissertation is ready for defense, the student completes the Request to Schedule a Doctoral Examination form. This request must be sent to the Graduate School at least 2 weeks prior to the defense. The dissertation defense must be held at least one semester after the proposal defense. The student schedules the defense with the full committee who must all be present either in person or by distance technology. The Research Advisor will assist in scheduling the room. The student should be aware of the Graduate School calendar regarding deadline dates for defense and filing of completed dissertation.

Upon successful completion of the dissertation defense, the committee signs the Signature Page for the Doctoral Dissertation. A sample copy is located in the Dissertation Manual but be sure it is the most current version of the form from the grad school website. The form will not be signed until the committee accepts all changes. Submission of the final copy to the Graduate School is the student's responsibility.

Preparation for the Dissertation and Expectations of the Research Advisor

Preparation for the dissertation can begin upon admission to the PhD program. While the student will not formally begin the dissertation process until well into the coursework, the foundation can be laid early on.

It is suggested that students begin early in the program developing a “phenomenon of interest” which can be fleshed out at many different junctures along the journey. The phenomenon will drive the research question, which will drive the methodology. Coursework (specifically electives) and projects can and should be focused and directed toward this path.

It is also a good idea to begin early on to “get to know” the faculty and their own personal research agendas as there may be congruency or a relationship of ideas lending to a potential good “fit”. The Research Advisor chosen will be integral on the journey to the comprehensive exams and beyond –it is important that a “fit” be found. Be aware that some faculty are not on contract in the summer and will not be available for your comprehensive examination, defense proposal, and dissertation defense during these months. Discussing availability during the summer months with your chosen committee is recommended if you plan to complete these steps in the summer.

It is an expectation that the Research Advisor and committee members will advise and support the research process of the student. The graduate faculty in the School of Nursing at UNC believes that conducting research and subsequently publishing that work is essential to the students’ professional development and career advancement. Because the role of Research Advisor is often very time intensive, from both an advising and a mentoring perspective, it is expected that faculty will share in the publication of results from the dissertation work. Related to this, note the Graduate School does support an “alternative form” for the dissertation consisting of two publishable papers, traditional chapters 1, 3 and 5 at minimum. (See Dissertation Manual and Discipline specific outline; discuss with RA.)

Authorship planning should include ongoing collaborative discussions between the student, Research Advisor, and contributing committee members. The student is usually listed as principal author on any multiple-authored manuscripts that are based primarily on the student’s dissertation. Depending on the scope of a particular project, it is possible that several manuscripts will be planned, each of which could involve different authors or different authorship orders. In this event, it is especially important to discuss authorship at the beginning of the project to better determine and reflect the expected roles, responsibilities and contributions of all contributors. It is expected that negotiating authorship will be both professional and respectful.

POLICY TITLE:Doctoral Scholarly Project and Dissertation Grading Policy*Last Revision/Review Date: 10/13/23 NFSOPrevious Review Dates: 12/2/2022 NFSOOriginal Policy Date:*Sponsoring Committee(s): Graduate Leadership Team – Academic Policy

DESCRIPTION:

Doctoral students enroll in scholarly project (NURS 798) and dissertation (NURS 799) credits to support the final culminating work for the doctoral professional and research degrees. The following policy is written to ensure internal consistency and clarity in the enrollment and grading process for these course credits.

PROCEDURE:

1. Students shall work with their research/scholarly project advisor at the beginning of the semester to develop a plan for the expected work and determine the appropriate number of credits to register, in accordance with the respective syllabus. Three credits of enrollment is equivalent to 8-9 hours of work each week for a 16-week semester.
2. As the semester progresses, if a student is unable to complete the agreed upon course expectations, due to unforeseen circumstances (i.e. personal/medical issues, work related changes), the student will be encouraged to withdraw from the enrolled credits. The faculty research/scholarly project advisor will advise the student to meet with the program coordinator to determine whether the student should apply for an official leave of absence. Depending on the situation, a tuition appeal should also be encouraged so students do not incur additional costs due to the unforeseen circumstances precipitating a withdrawal.
3. A student is allowed to 'withdraw' from project/dissertation credits for a maximum of 2 semesters, which may or may not be consecutive. If a student withdraws from their project/dissertation credits to the maximal allowance, the student would be connected with the program coordinator to discuss program completion options, including application for an official leave of absence.
4. If the student has submitted work which is deemed by the faculty advisor to be unsatisfactory, the student would receive a grade of "U" at the end of the semester. A grade of "U" does not terminate the student's program. However, a grade of "U" would increase the overall number of credits required to complete the program.
5. If the student submits the agreed upon work for the semester and is continuing to make progress toward their project/dissertation, the faculty member would give a grade of "S" for the semester.
6. N799 and N798 courses credits are ineligible for an "I" grade.
7. Students must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 12 scholarly project/dissertation credits. Up to three additional credits may be taken if additional time is needed to complete the project/dissertation.

University Honor Code

All members of the University of Northern Colorado community are entrusted with the responsibility to uphold and promote five fundamental values: Honesty, Trust, Respect, Fairness, and Responsibility. These core elements foster an atmosphere, inside and outside of the classroom, which serves as a foundation and guides the UNC community's academic, professional, and personal growth. Endorsement of these core elements by students, faculty, staff, administration, and trustees strengthens the integrity and value of our academic climate.
