

Language, Early Literacy and Family Engagement

Early Childhood Summit

Vail, Colorado

June 30 – July 2, 2014

The 2014 Early Childhood Summit will be 2½ days of inspiring sessions developed for early learning professionals including early childhood educators, early intervention/special education providers, early childhood administrators, special education administrators and anyone interested in young children and supporting learning and literacy through family engagement!

Participants in the Summit will have the opportunity to learn from and engage with Dr. Carol Trivette as she shares innovative approaches in language and early literacy development that blend best practices with cutting edge research and leads the group through “Language, Early Literacy, and Family Engagement.” Information about early literacy initiatives in the State will also be shared.

Participants will leave with knowledge and collaborative action plans to support the needs of each infant, toddler, and preschooler in all learning environments.

Registration for the 2014 Summit is $125 for individuals or $100 for those attending as teams of three or more (restrictions apply). It includes breakfast and lunch Monday through Wednesday. Limited financial support for registration fees is available for attendees.

For those seeking CEUs, you may receive graduate credits from the University of Northern Colorado for full Summit participation for additional cost.

More detailed information as well as registration and lodging forms available at http://www.unco.edu/bresnahan-halstead/professional_development.html

Questions? Contact lorae.blum@unco.edu

Organized by Bresnahan-Halstead Center, University of Northern Colorado in partnership with Preschool Special Education & Child Find, CDE; Early Intervention Colorado, Office of Early Childhood, CDHS; Early Childhood Professional Development Team, CDE; and Office of Early Learning and School Readiness, CDE.