

2nd Annual Early Childhood Summit

This year's topic:

Social and Emotional Development of Young Children: Promotion, Prevention, and Intervention

Vail, Colorado

June 15 –17, 2015

The 2015 Early Childhood Summit will be 2½ days of inspiring sessions developed for early learning professionals including early childhood educators, early intervention/special education providers, child care providers, early childhood administrators, special education administrators and anyone interested in supporting social emotional development in young children!

Participants in the Summit will have the opportunity to learn from and engage with Dr. Mary Louise Hemmeter as she shares innovative approaches in promotion, prevention, and intervention of social emotional development for young children that blend best practices with cutting edge research. Information about social emotional initiatives in the State will also be shared.

Participants will leave with knowledge and collaborative action plans to support the needs of each infant, toddler, and preschooler in all learning environments.

Registration for the 2015 Summit is $125 for individuals or $100 for those attending as teams of three or more (restrictions apply).

It includes breakfast and lunch Monday through Wednesday. Limited financial support for registration fees is available for attendees.

For those seeking CEUs, you may receive graduate credits from the University of Northern Colorado for full Summit participation for additional cost.

More detailed information as well as registration and lodging forms available at http://www.unco.edu/bresnahan-halstead/professional_development.html

Questions? Contact lorae.blum@unco.edu

Organized by Bresnahan-Halstead Center, University of Northern Colorado in partnership with Preschool Special Education & Child Find, CDE; Early Intervention Colorado, Office of Early Childhood, CDHS; Colorado Head Start; and Early Care & Learning, CDHS