

UNIVERSITY OF NORTHERN COLORADO FUTURE TEACHER CONFERENCE

SAVE THE DATE: FEBRUARY 6, 2026

WANT TO INSPIRE THE NEXT GENERATION OF TEACHERS?

The College of Education and Behavioral Sciences at University of Northern Colorado invites you and your students to attend the 11th annual UNC Future Teacher Conference. This free conference is designed to help aspiring teachers learn more about the field, connect with peers and gather insights from Colorado's leader in teacher education.

The 2026 conference will feature presentations and workshops facilitated by UNC Teacher Education faculty, early career teachers, veteran educators, district leaders, current UNC students and UNC administrators.

This year's keynote speaker is Steve Spangler. Spangler is a renowned STEM educator, recognized as a best-selling author, TV personality, and dubbed as "America's Science Teacher" by Ellen DeGeneres. Spangler was also recognized as one of Time magazine's Most Influential People of the Year.

LEARN MORE!

For more info, visit: unco.edu/cebs/future-teacher-conference

Questions? teacher.education@unco.edu

The event offers resources for students interested in:

- Early childhood education
- Elementary education
- Secondary education
- Special education
- Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Education
- K-12 Education: Art, Music, Physical Education, and Theatre
- Secondary Education: Social Studies, English, and Science,
- Educational technology
- Parent seminar
- And more!

REGISTER
STARTING NOV. 3

UNIVERSITY OF
NORTHERN COLORADO