UNC back in Person Fall 2021

The University of Northern Colorado (UNC) is planning to return to a full schedule of in-person courses for the fall 2021 semester, which begins on Aug. 23, and restoring activities and events that will allow students to enjoy experiential learning, campus life and community engagement opportunities. Throughout the 2020-21 academic year, the university adjusted its course delivery methods based on public health guidelines by offering an increase of hybrid and online-only courses because of impacts from the coronavirus (COVID-19).

March is Women's History Month!

Women's History Month takes place every March. The Center for Women's and Gender Equity hosts intersectional programs, events, and campaigns to recognize the complete narrative of Women's Rights History. Additionally, through education, collaboration, and awareness the CWGE centralizes marginalized voices of our history and contemporary moment. Our goal is to share the whole narrative as opposed to the commonly celebrated privileged narrative of women's history.

Join the CWGE as we warmly welcome
