Dear Graduates of the Class of 2022,

Congratulations! Hard work and determination have led to this very special day when you will cross the stage and celebrate earning a degree from the University of Northern Colorado. Obtaining a college degree is a significant milestone, and I am excited to honor your tremendous accomplishments. Today you join a growing, global network of proud Bear alumni.

Commencement is one of my favorite days of the year because it represents the pinnacle of your college journey. The effort you have put into earning your degree, the enriching experiences you have had inside and outside of the classroom at UNC, and the contributions of family, friends, faculty, and staff to help you reach this moment are worthy of celebration. Each graduate has a unique story for how you reached this point, and I am proud of every member of this year’s class.

From this day forward, wherever you go in the world and whatever path you explore, I hope you will continue to embrace discovery, follow your curiosity, and seek ways to be a catalyst for change in your community and around the world.

As you embark on the pursuit of new endeavors, our entire UNC community looks ahead with anticipation to everything you will do next. There is no greater joy for me than seeing our students thrive in their lives and careers beyond graduation. Today we send you off with our best wishes and hope you will remember – Once a Bear, Always a Bear.

Daniel Edi
PhD in Applied Statistics and Research Methods

Daniel Edi earned a bachelor’s in Petroleum Engineering with a minor in Mathematics from the University of Louisiana at Lafayette in 2017 and a Master’s in Statistics from the University of New Mexico in 2019. At the University of Northern Colorado, he has served as statistical and research consultant at the Research Consulting Lab, instructor for introduction to statistical analysis, proposal reviewer for the McNair Scholars Program, and Graduate Student Association’s Faculty Research and Publications Board Representative. Following his Ph.D. graduation, Daniel will be joining an EdTech company as a Research Scientist. Daniel and his wife have a son who will be one year old on January 30, 2023.

Leighann Brock
DNP in Nursing: Adult Gerontology Acute Care

Leighann Brock Doctor of Nursing Leighann dedicated herself to the nursing profession in 2010, working her way up from a certified nurse's aide to the doctorate she will receive today. Leighann worked at the bedside as a registered nurse in critical care for ten years. In 2020, Leighann earned her Master’s in Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner from the University of Northern Colorado. While studying at UNC, Leighann worked as a graduate teaching assistant/instructor in the School of Nursing. She is now working as an internal medicine nurse practitioner specializing in geriatrics, which she will tell you is the greatest generation of all time. During her studies, Leighann felt called to improve patient outcomes by translating research into practice. She looks forward to furthering her doctoral research on burnout prevention in critical care nursing and assisting in the advocacy for mental health support and wellness for healthcare workers. Leighann is a Colorado native who grew up in Arvada. She resides in Northern Colorado with her college sweetheart, their 10-year-old daughter, and their dog. Leighann contributes her success to the love and support of her husband, daughter, parents, grandparents, siblings, and favorite aunt. When Leighann isn't teaching or working, she can be seen cheering for her daughter in one of her many sports or enjoying a Colorado Avalanche hockey game.
