UNC Commencement Mission Statement
University Commencement represents the culmination of a student’s academic achievement. It is a time of celebration and reflection for students, families, friends, faculty and staff. It brings together a diverse community to share the joy of accomplished goals.
Dear UNC Graduates,

Commencement marks a milestone in both your journey of lifelong learning and the life of the University of Northern Colorado. As you reflect on your accomplishments and look forward to new opportunities, know that you are part of more than a century’s tradition on our campus.

In 1890, when civic leaders, educators and citizens from Greeley and across the State of Colorado gathered to celebrate laying the cornerstone of our first building, they spoke of universal education as the foundation for our future. Governor Job A. Cooper told the crowd: “It is the enlightened conscience and educated intelligence of the many that will ultimately crowd back all corruption and anarchy, and harmonize contending factions and dissipate the dangers that threaten our country. Upon this foundation stone laid today will rise an institution to prepare leaders in this great work.”

As graduates, you will leave here today to become the leaders envisioned by our founders. Earning a UNC degree is about more than books and knowledge. It is about nurturing the mind and the heart, seeing potential in the unknown, and preparing to give back to society. If you look at the array of professions — the lives — we prepare students for, many are public service oriented. UNC graduates don’t just make money; they make a difference.

As you continue your journey of lifelong learning, you can be proud to be part of a distinguished group of UNC alumni who are making a difference across the country and around the world.

Best regards,

Kay Norton
M. LUCILE HARRISON AWARD
The M. Lucile Harrison Award recognizes professional excellence in teaching, scholarship and service. Awarded annually by the Office of the Provost, this award reflects a lifetime of achievement, and recipients are recognized as outstanding teachers and respected scholars who have been active in service to the university and their profession. It is these accomplishments that marked the career of M. Lucile Harrison, a professor emerita of elementary education, a co-author of a national reading series and an award-winning educator.

M. Lucile Harrison Award winner: Kay Alicyn Ferrell, Ph.D.
Kay Ferrell Ph.D, professor of Special Education, has been named the winner of this year’s M. Lucile Harrison award, the university’s top faculty honor.

She earned her bachelor degree from George Washington University, masters from Teachers College, Columbia University and Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh in special education.

Kay has collaborated on 69 external funding proposals resulting in grant funding of nearly $15 million since 1982. Her research focuses on the development of young children with visual impairments, cross-modal abilities of infants with disabilities, students with visual impairments, distance education methodologies, and image description.

During her 22 year career at UNC, she has received numerous state and national awards for her work with and on behalf of children and youth who are blind and visually impaired.

ROBERT AND LUDIE DICKESON PRESIDENTIAL PRIZE FOR LEADERSHIP
The Robert and Ludie Dickeson Presidential Prize for Leadership acknowledges and rewards student leadership on the University of Northern Colorado campus. The cash award comes from an endowment given by former UNC President Robert Dickeson and his wife, Ludie. To be eligible for the award, a graduating student must be considered a leader by their peers, faculty and the administration and must have a minimum grade point average of 3.0.

Robert and Ludie Dickeson Presidential Prize 2012-2013 Award winners: Mario Hernandez & Emilie Nemchak

Connie Willis

Connie Willis is an acclaimed science-fiction writer, the author of Doomsday Book, To Say Nothing of the Dog, Lincoln’s Dreams, Bellwether, the two-volume Blackout and All Clear, and The Best of Connie Willis. Willis’s novels and short stories have won a record number of Hugo and Nebula Awards (science fiction’s most prestigious awards), and she is the first author to have won awards in all four categories of both awards. She is also the recipient of the American Library Association’s Alex Award and the John W. Campbell Memorial Award. Three years ago she was inducted into the Science Fiction Hall of Fame, and two years ago she was named a Grand Master of Science Fiction. Willis is a University of Northern Colorado alum, having majored in English and elementary education. She currently works with the English honor society, Sigma Tau Delta, and recently donated her manuscripts and papers to UNC’s Michener Library. Her husband, Courtney W. Willis, is a UNC professor emeritus of physics.

10 University of Northern Colorado
Civic leaders, educators, and citizens from around Colorado gather to lay the cornerstone of UNC’s first building, later named Cranford Hall.

The Colorado State Normal School opens before its first building is ready, holding classes in locations around Greeley that included a room over a downtown paint store, a back room at the Baptist church and a courtroom.

Daniel Augenstein

Colorado native Daniel Augenstein has been an art educator and artist in Greeley since 1976, when he graduated from the University of Northern Colorado with a bachelor's with honors in visual arts. In 1985, Dan earned his master's in painting from UNC. During his 32-year career in Greeley public schools he taught art at Brentwood Middle School, Heath Junior High School and Greeley West High School. Dan was also GWHS's Director of Advanced Academics, coordinating the gifted program, the International Baccalaureate (IB) program and Advanced Placement (AP) programs. He served as President of the IB Association of Rocky Mountain Schools (2004–2006), IB Visual Arts examiner and IB Visual Arts workshop leader.

In 2007, Dan retired from public school teaching to pursue a full-time career as a studio artist and to teach art as a part-time instructor at Aims Community College. He has shown work in the Colored Pencil Society of America National exhibit, and his oils, acrylics, watercolors, drawings, prints and ceramics are represented by the Columbine Gallery in Loveland and the Madison and Main Gallery in Greeley. His work is owned by collectors throughout the world.

Dan is married to his high school sweetheart, Deborah, and has three grown children who, with their spouses, have given Dan and Deb five grandchildren.
