IT'S YOUR FUTURE.

Making the decision to attend college is an investment you'll benefit from for the rest of your life, and choosing to attend the University of Northern Colorado is not only a good decision, it's an experience that is rewarding and affordable.

We understand that the financial costs that go along with the college investment can be overwhelming, and that's why UNC's Office of Financial Aid is here to help you navigate through the process and manage your college costs.

You've already taken the first step to contribute to your college investment by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). With your award letter, you'll be able to start budgeting your first year at UNC and take your educational investment far beyond the classroom walls. It is important that you know before you owe.

Each student's cost of attendance varies. These examples reflect what an average student might experience. Direct costs like tuition, fees, and on-campus room and board will be close to actual costs and will be billed by UNC directly. Your indirect costs (like personal, transportation, books and misc. expenses) are simply shown for your budgeting purposes. You won't receive a bill from UNC for these items.

 Visit UNCO.EDU/COSTS for a detailed breakdown of cost of attendance and fees.

* The tuition cost shown for Colorado residents is after the College Opportunity Fund (COF) is applied to the student's bill. To be eligible for COF, Colorado resident students should apply at COLLEGEINCOLORADO.ORG

(A) Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE) Program – WUE provides reduced tuition to students who are residents of one of the states participating in the WUE program (AK, AZ, CA, HI, ID, MT, NV, NM, ND, OR, SD, UT, WA, WY).

INTERPRETING YOUR FINANCIAL AID AWARD

You'll be able to view your financial aid offer through your URSA account at URSA.UNCO.EDU. The offer will detail the amounts and types of financial aid for which you're eligible. Offers are based on full-time attendance (12+ credits) at UNC as an undergraduate or part-time (five credits) for graduate students. The Office of Financial Aid begins sending online notification of award availability in the spring, and includes instructions for accessing your award notice. All financial aid applicants may receive the following types of financial aid:

GRANTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS
(does not have to be repaid, scholarships may require a separate application)

WORK-STUDY
(part-time employment)

STUDENT LOANS
(must be repaid, includes government subsidized and unsubsidized)

GRANTS

Example of grants include the Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Colorado Student Grant (COSG*), UNC Need-Based Grant and/or the UNC 1889 Founder's Grant.

*COSG is restricted to Colorado residents and funded by the Colorado General Assembly.

UNC SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Scholarships can be based on merit, talent or other donor criteria. The UNC Scholarship Application is a simple way for students to apply for institutional scholarships and is available to admitted students through URSA starting in November. The UNC Scholarship Application's deadline is February 1.

LOAN BORROWER INFORMATION

If you decide to accept a loan to pay for your education, know that you'll need to repay the loan with interest. Interest rates can be found at STUDENTAID.ED.GOV/SA/TYPES/LOANS/INTEREST-RATES. Repayment of a subsidized and unsubsidized loan begins six months after you stop attending at least half-time (six credits for undergraduates). To accept a loan, accept the amount needed on URSA and then complete Entrance Counseling and a Master Promissory Note (MPN) at STUDENTLOANS.GOV.

REQUIREMENTS

By accepting your awards on URSA, you acknowledge that any funds received under Federal or Colorado student aid programs will be used solely for education-related expenses as a student at UNC.

As a UNC undergraduate you must enroll in at least 12 credit hours per semester to be considered full-time for each semester. Full-time enrollment is required for most grants and scholarships. At least six credit hours per semester are required for Federal Direct Stafford Loans.

If you fail to attend classes you may have to immediately repay part or all of your aid. These funds include, but aren't limited to, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplement Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) and Federal Direct Stafford Loans. The Office of Financial Aid reserves the right to review, adjust or cancel aid at any time due to changes in student finances, residency or academic status, adjustment in federal or state regulations, funding, computation error or receipt of additional aid or scholarships.

The Office of Financial Aid will review your application information to see if further documentation is needed, so it's important to check and keep your address, email address and phone number current in URSA.

You may have special requirements that need to be fulfilled before receiving financial aid if you are enrolled in either the National Student Exchange Program (NSEP) or the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP). Contact the Office of Financial Aid for details regarding the requirements of your program.

DISBURSEMENT OF AID

If all requirements are met, aid will be paid towards your bill the Friday before the semester begins. If requirements for loan disbursement (MPN and Entrance Counseling) are not completed before the last day of classes, you may not be able to receive funds for that term unless...

- You are enrolled in subsequent terms
- You complete at least six credits as an undergraduate or five credits as a graduate
- You maintain satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

COLLEGE OPPORTUNITY FUND STIPEND (COF)

If you're a Colorado resident, make it a top priority to apply for the COF stipend. The fund was established by the Colorado legislature to reduce the cost of tuition for Colorado resident undergraduate students. Register for the stipend online at COLLEGEINCOLORADO.ORG. You will also need to authorize your COF stipend to be used at UNC on the Financial tab of URSA. If you don't apply for the stipend, you'll pay a higher tuition rate. Check your student bill in August to see the stipend.

ACCEPTING OR DECLINING YOUR AID

You'll also receive notification of a financial aid award via BearMail. To review and accept/decline your award after it's posted, log into your URSA account. Grants are automatically accepted. Follow these steps to accept your aid:

- Log in to URSA at URSA.UNCO.EDU.
- Click on the "Financial" tab to find your award letter and requirements in the lower right hand corner. Select the drop down box and choose the current academic year and submit.
- Select the "Terms and Conditions" tab and review the information before clicking the "I Accept" button.
- Accept, decline or adjust the aid offered to you.
- Once you've accepted, declined or adjusted your financial aid, select "Submit Decision." The screen will display a list of requirements for processing your aid. Select the links or red flags to complete the requirements.

BUDGETING

Creating a budget can help you manage your money and spending habits, as well as estimate how much money you'll need to borrow. You don't have to take the maximum amount of loans awarded to you. Taking out a student loan—and making payments on time—will help you establish and maintain a good credit rating once you graduate. Know all of your costs before you owe. Make sure you have enough financial support to cover your UNC bill.

TO CREATE A BUDGET:

- Track your spending and daily expenses for at least a month to develop a realistic budget based on honest spending habits.
- Make a list of your income and expenses. For your income, include expected earnings from your work-study/job, scholarships, and other financial aid. List your expenses in spending categories like housing, food, travel, entertainment, and education expenses.
- Total your expenses then total your financial aid, family support, and income. If your expenses are more than your income or if it looks like you may run out of money by the end of the semester you'll need to find areas to reduce spending. You may need to make the difficult decision about not attending college, attending a local or community college, or holding off until you are able to afford it. It's not uncommon for students to reduce personal spending while attending college.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Students are eligible to earn extra money to help pay your UNC bill or meet everyday expenses through on-campus student employment. Each fall semester the Office of Student Employment hosts the UNC Job Fair at the University Center. The Job Fair gives you a chance to talk to employers in one convenient location. Employers take applications and/or may hire that day for work-study and student-hourly positions.

Work-study and student hourly jobs are posted on the Handshake job search site at UNCG.EDU/CAREERS. Students are paid according to the number of hours worked. Call the Office of Student Employment at 970-351-2628 for more information.

 Visit Handshake for job search at UNCG.JOINHANDSHAKE.COM

NEED-BASED WORK-STUDY

Work-study offers part-time employment to students who work on campus for university employers or off campus in certain community service positions. Work-study is available to eligible residents and nonresidents.

NO-NEED WORK-STUDY

No-need work-study has different eligibility requirements. To apply you must complete the FAFSA and not qualify for need-based financial assistance. This award is only for Colorado resident undergraduate students. First priority is given to students who meet the March 1 deadline for the FAFSA and who also received funding from this program the previous year.

ON-CAMPUS HOURLY EMPLOYMENT

Various departments offer part-time positions on campus for students. This is a good alternative for students who want to work but aren't awarded work-study.

Handshake is a great resource for students to search for everything from student employment, part-time jobs, internships, and other career opportunities.
