

SOCIOLOGY DEPARTMENT
Faculty Application for a Graduate Assistant

The Sociology Department provides graduate assistants to faculty members on a competitive basis. The number of graduate assistants available each semester depends on decisions made at the graduate school. Priority is given in the following order: preparing external grant applications, preparing internal grant applications, research projects, assistance with classes.

Applicant Name Angie Henderson

Proposed Start Date Jan 9, 2023 Anticipated Completion Date May 3, 2023

Project Title TA for SOC 352 & other electives assigned

Duties

Teaching Assistant duties:

- Attending class as needed
- Grading class assignments
- Course management/uploading items, grading discussion boards
- Meeting with students to help guide projects
- Reading, editing, and helping students with writing their papers

Qualifications

An ideal candidate for this position will have a strong background in sociological theory and will have already taken the SOC 593: Practicum in College Teaching. Candidates can be first or second year graduate students.

Applicant Signature  Date 3-4-22