

Minor in German

Minor Requirements

18 credits

The German emphases at UNC stresses acquisition of four language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Classes at all levels are performance-oriented, geared toward proficiency in the language and conducted in German. Students also develop skills in critical thinking as they acquire familiarity with German-language literature and civilization. The program's extracurricular activities encourage cultural awareness while developing leadership and organizational and promotional abilities.

Required Minor Credits

12 hours

GER 201 Intermediate German I (3)
GER 202 Intermediate German II (3)

GER 116 Contemporary Germany (3)
GER 407 German Phonetics and Oral Proficiency (3)

Elective Minor Credits

6 hours

GER 301 Germany and the Germans I (3)
GER 302 Germany and the German II (3)
GER 311 German Civ & Lit Survey I (3)
GER 312 German Civ & Lit Survey II (3)
GER 411 Germany Then and Now (3)
GER 412 Politics and Society (3)

GER 413 German Cultural Identity (3)
GER 414 Language Society, & Profession (3)
GER 450 Literature, Self and Society (3)
GER 475 Research Seminar: German Texts and Contexts (3)
FL 395 Special Topics (1-4)

Notes

Variable topic courses may be taken for credit toward the German minor only when approved by the student's faculty advisor in German.

Courses with GER prefix are conducted in German unless otherwise noted in course description.

All work to be counted toward the German Minor, Liberal Arts Emphasis, must be beyond the first year level.

Students are encouraged to enrich their German language-related cultural awareness through regular participation in program-sponsored activities. Consult program advisor.

Students must maintain a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in those courses that count towards the minor and that are taken at UNC.

Advising with a faculty advisor for the German minor is suggested before registration.

For more information, contact:

Dr. Don Holman don.holman@unco.edu 970-351-3698

Or

World Languages & Cultures anna.williams@unco.edu 970-351-2221