Dear Supervisors:

New employee orientation is your chance to help new hires understand what is expected of them in your department and at UNC. It’s also a way to make a new employee feel welcome and get the employee-employer relationship off to a good start. Traditionally, the purpose of new hire orientation was for Human Resources to collect all of the required paperwork and cover mandatory training topics. While this is important, the real purpose of an orientation is to welcome the employee, provide information needed to start his/her new position on good footing, and create a positive first impression that will foster pride in UNC and in the employee’s daily work for years to come.

Human Resources appreciates your assistance with this process to help our employees succeed. We also appreciate feedback and are available to answer questions. Our website, http://www.unco.edu/human-resources/ houses a wealth of information for supervisors and employees, along with a HRS Forms section. You can also reach Human Resource Services by phone at 351-2718.

We appreciate your time and commitment to making the University of Northern Colorado an outstanding learning institution and an employer of choice.

Sincerely,

Julie Tacker

Julie Tacker PHR
Assistant Director of Human Resources
ORIENTATION PROCESS FOR NEW, REGULAR EMPLOYEES - FULL- OR PART-TIME

The term “regular” employee refers to applicants hired for full- or part-time positions paid through the university payroll system. Regular employees include those hired into the state classified system, faculty with their own position number (starting with F, not FP) and administrative-exempt staff.

Pre-employment:
For faculty and administrative staff positions, an offer letter, Personal Digital Identity (PDID) form, Personal Data form and Background Check release form should be given to employee by the hiring department to be returned as soon as possible. Forward the background check form to HRS immediately upon return. For state classified positions, an offer letter or phone offer should be made by the hiring department. The new hire should then come to HRS to complete the Background Check release form, ErgoMed assessment release (if applicable) and Personal Digital Identity (PDID) form. Please note that employment is contingent upon satisfactory background and applicable ergonomic checks. Do not start the employee prior to HRS confirmation of hire.

Once the applicant is cleared to start, the supervisor should send an individualized welcome letter stating when, where, and how to report to work. HRS suggests that the department include a parking map to assist the employee the first day with parking. For faculty and administrative staff positions, the department business manager will submit the signed PDID form, Payroll Data form and Personal Data form to HRS at the same time. The supervisor should complete the appropriate Prior to First Day section of the Department Orientation Checklist – Regular Employee provided by HRS, prepare the work area, and request needed computer access, Banner access, telephone numbers, business cards, bear number, etc.

First Day through First Week
Supervisors should continue working through the Department Orientation Checklist. Date the items as you complete them. HRS suggests that the supervisor take the new employee to lunch at one of the dining halls on the first day or arrange that another employee do so. Where possible, select a peer in the department to assist the employee as a support person.

Second Week
Supervisors should review the first week with employee and answer questions or concerns; ensure that the employee has met with appropriate benefit coordinator if applicable; and follow up on on-line training. Complete the Department Orientation Checklist and send the signed copy to HRS to be included in the employee’s personnel file. Continue to incorporate any specific department training.

First Month
Review and discuss goals/plan for review period with classified and administrative-exempt employees. Send a copy of the signed and dated front page of the evaluation form to HRS.

Mid-Year
If employee is in the state classified personnel system:
Complete a mid-year evaluation and send copy of cover sheet to HRS by December 15th.

If employee is an administrative–exempt employee:
Although it is not required, administrative-exempt employees should also receive a mid-year review to provide feedback.

Within First Year and thereafter
If employee is in state classified personnel system:
Complete annual evaluation and send original evaluation to HRS by March 31st. Review PDQ and plan goals for next review period and submit copy of cover page to HRS by April 30th.

If employee is an administrative–exempt employee:
Must complete annual evaluation and send original to HRS by June 30th. Review PDQ and plan goals for next review period and submit copy of cover page to HRS by July 31st.
Feedback:
Employees should receive feedback regarding their performance and project results throughout the year, not just at the evaluation periods.

Succession Planning:
Work to cross train and prepare employees for the next step in the department or organization.

Terminations:
Despite having a well thought-out recruiting, hiring, and orientation process, the reality is situations can arise that require an employee to leave employment. In the event that a regular employee leaves employment, you as the supervisor should be aware of the steps required to successfully off board the employee.

Upon notice of the separation of a regular employee, submit a Termination /Retirement form to HRS and have the employee contact HRS to set up an exit interview. During that interview, HRS will discuss continuing insurance options, technology termination, accounting checkout, and key retrieval. Also make sure to inform the business manager so he/she can submit a Payroll Data form to HRS with the official end date to terminate the job.

If the employee leaves suddenly or does not contact HRS to schedule an exit interview, contact Information Technology directly to ensure the employee account access is terminated upon the employee leaving. Retrieve keys, UNC identification card, and any purchasing or travel visa cards.
Adjunct faculty and lecturers who work less than .5 FTE do not receive benefits. However, it is important that they are acquainted with the university’s guidelines and expectations of them.

Pre-employment:
As with regular employees, adjunct faculty and lecturers’ employment is contingent upon a satisfactory background check. Do not start the employee prior to HRS confirmation of hire. An offer letter, Personal Data form and Background Check release form should be mailed or given to employee upon contingent hire by the department to be returned as soon as possible. The department should forward the Background Check form to HRS immediately upon return. Once the applicant is cleared to start, the supervisor should send the employee a welcome letter and inform him/her of when, where, and how to report to work. The department must submit the signed PDID form, PD form, and Payroll Data form to HRS at the same time. The supervisor should complete Prior to First Day section of Department Orientation Checklist – Adjunct Faculty/Lecturer provided by HRS, prepare the work area, and request needed computer access, telephone numbers, business cards, bear number, etc.

First Day – First Week
Supervisors should continue working through the Department Orientation Checklist – Adjunct Faculty/Lecturer. Date the items as you complete them. If possible, select a person in the department to acclimate the employee. Often times, these instructors do not get much supervision from the department because of the class schedules or on-line course delivery. However, they are still in contact with our students and need to convey the same professionalism and standards required of other faculty representing UNC. When possible, these employees should attend the HRS orientation. Adjuncts and lecturers must understand their role and should view the Becoming a Bear booklet on-line to ensure they know relevant policies that may pertain to them. Supervisors must ensure that these steps are completed.

Second Week
Supervisors should review the first week with employee, answering questions or concerns; follow up on on-line training; and complete the Department Orientation Checklist – Adjunct Faculty/Lecturer and send a signed copy to HRS to be added to the employee’s hiring packet.

Within First Year and thereafter

Feedback:
Employees should receive feedback regarding their performance and project results throughout the year, not just at the evaluation periods. It is suggested that supervisors meet with part-time adjuncts/lecturers during the assignment to ensure the work is satisfactory.

Terminating employees:
If an adjunct/lecturer employee leaves the position prior to the arranged termination date, the department must contact HRS and Payroll via a Payroll data Form so we can adjust the termination date in the Banner system. For security reasons, make sure to contact Information Technology to terminate the employees computer access to your department anytime an employee leaves and retrieve keys and/or UNC Identification Card.
Students may be hired for many non-regular positions on campus. Student employees are allowed to work up to 40 hours per week for all jobs worked during a semester; however, it is highly recommended that they only work between 12-15 hours while classes are in session. Additionally, international students may only work up to 20 hours per week. Student status is defined as being registered in at least 1 course. You may continue to hire a student as a student employee during the summer months as long as the student was registered during the spring and the student will be enrolled during the following fall semester. If the student graduates or will be taking a leave from school for more than a semester, you must change the status to a temporary employee.

Temporary employees may be hired for full- or part-time temporary assignments on an hourly (university aide) or salary (technical professional) basis. Per state rules, temporary employees may only work a total of six months during a twelve-month period. They then must refrain from university work for six months. If you wish to hire a temporary employee, contact HRS to ensure the candidate has the time available to work your assignment.

Pre-employment
As with regular employees, temporary employees must pass a satisfactory background check, unless they are hired for less than one month or have completed one within the last six months. Student employees generally do not complete background checks unless working for certain positions, such as athletics. Some temporary jobs do require an ergonomic assessment, however. Supervisors can contact the classified employment specialist in HRS to see if their position requires the ergonomic exam. Make sure to forward the university aide or technical professional hiring packet to HRS. Do not start the temporary employee prior to HRS confirmation of hire. Once the applicant is cleared to start, the supervisor should contact the employee and inform him/her of when, where, and how to report to work. The supervisor should complete Prior to First Day section of Department Orientation Checklist – Temporary/Student provided by HRS, prepare the work area, and request needed computer access, telephone numbers, bear number, etc.

Student hourly and salary positions are hired through the Electronic Personnel Action Form (EPAF) process. Employers are charged with completing the I-9 and photo copying the documentation presented prior to completing the EPAF. I-9 and Colorado Verification forms must be sent to HRS immediately upon completion so we can enter them into the Federal E-Verify system. Do not forget to have the supervisor and employee complete the PDID form so the employee can access his/her payroll information. Even if the student or temporary employee does not need to use the Banner system, he/she must have access to the pay advice information located in URSA.

Work-study students are hired through the Financial Aid department. Departments must complete appropriate paperwork to have the student set up in the system. Contact Financial Aid for further information.

International students are hired through the HRS office. As with work-study students, departments must complete appropriate paperwork to establish the student in the system.

First Day – First Week
Supervisors should continue working through the Department Orientation Checklist – Temporary/Student with Temporary employees. Date the items as you complete them. Where possible, select a peer in the department to assist the employee. Student employees should complete the on-line training and can view the Becoming a Bear booklet on-line to ensure they know relevant policies that may pertain to them.

Second Week
Supervisors should review the first week with the employee, answering questions or concerns; follow up on online training; and for temporary employees, complete the Department Orientation Checklist and send a signed copy to HRS to be added to the employee’s hiring packet. Continue to incorporate any specific department training. For students, the checklist should be kept at the department level.
Within First Year and thereafter

For Student employees:
If a student leaves the position, the department must terminate the job by submitting an EPAF change. Additionally, pay increases and FOAP changes can be made using EPAF. For security reasons, make sure to contact Information Technology to terminate the employee’s computer access to your department when he/she leaves his/her position.

For Temporary employees:
If a temporary employee leaves the position prior to the arranged termination date, the department must contact HRS so we can adjust the information in the Banner system. For security reasons, make sure to contact Information Technology to terminate the employee’s computer access to your department. Remember, temporary employees can only work for up to six months. If you plan to have an assignment become a regular, budgeted position, the supervisor must start that process prior to the termination date as the assignment will not be extended.

Feedback:
Employees should receive feedback regarding their performance and project results throughout the year. It is suggested that supervisors meet with student and temporary employees during the assignment to ensure the work is satisfactory. Particularly with students, this may be a first job. Your input and guidance may assist them in succeeding in future work assignments and career opportunities. If possible, work to cross train and prepare student employees for the next step in the department or organization.
ORIENTATION PROCESS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are not employees of the university and do not receive any payment for their efforts nor receive any benefits. However, to assist the university, they may require computer access.

Pre-employment
Volunteers generally are not required to complete a background check form unless working with the athletics department or sensitive areas. If a background check is required, do not start the volunteer prior to HRS confirmation of hire. Once the volunteer is cleared to start, the supervisor should contact the volunteer and inform him/her of when, where, and how to report to UNC. The supervisor should complete Prior to First Day section of Department Orientation Checklist – Volunteer provided by HRS, prepare the work area, and request needed computer access codes, telephone numbers, bear number, etc.

First Day – First Week
Supervisors should continue working through the Department Orientation Checklist – Volunteer. Date the items as you complete them. If possible, select a peer to help acclimate the volunteer to the department. Often times, volunteers do not get much direction from the department because of the volunteer status. However, they are still in contact with our students and need to convey the same professionalism and standards required of other staff representing UNC. It is important that they understand this and should also complete the on-line training and view the Becoming a Bear booklet on-line to ensure they know relevant policies that may pertain to them. Supervisors must ensure that these steps are completed.

Second Week
Supervisors should review the first week with volunteer, answering questions or concerns; follow up on on-line training; and complete the Department Orientation Checklist and keep the signed original in the department. Continue to incorporate any specific department training.

Within First Year and thereafter
If a volunteer leaves the position, contact HRS so we can terminate the volunteer status in the Banner system. For security reasons, make sure to contact Information Technology to terminate the volunteer’s computer access to your department.

I want to be the first to welcome you as a new employee to the University of Northern Colorado. You are an employee of [department], which is a division of [division name or college].

The supervisor of this area is [supervisor], and his/her office phone number is [phone number]. Your first day of work will be [day}, [date], at [time] in [building] room [room number]. Your shift (class) starts at [     ] and finishes at [     ].

After meeting with your supervisor, you will meet with Human Resource Services as part of an orientation process. There you will complete the required hiring documents; review benefits if applicable; and be introduced to UNC. During this time, you will need to complete an I-9 form and provide documents showing that you are eligible to work in the United States. A list of acceptable documents can be found at http://www.unco.edu/human-resources/pdf/hrs-forms/i-nine-printable.pdf and must include one (1) document from List A or one (1) document from List B and one (1) document from List C. Additionally, it is a condition of employment to have direct deposit of your pay. Please bring a check or a direct deposit letter so you can complete the auto deposit form.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact my office.

Again, welcome aboard.

    [Human Resources Employment Coordinator]
ORIENTATION WORKFLOW - 1ST MONTH OF EMPLOYMENT

Prior to Start

- Candidate is contacted via letter (faculty/administrative staff) or via phone (classified, temporary, student) for offer and to complete background and ergo med exam (if applicable). Students do not normally complete background checks unless in certain areas.
- If candidate completes check satisfactorily, then department is notified by HRS to hire. Department sets start date and sends via mail or email with letter attached the welcome letter with information to candidate of start date and where to report.
- Department contacts HRS department to reserve seat at orientation for regular full-and-part-time employees, adjunct faculty/lecturers and temporary who are over 1 month assignments if she/he hasn’t completed orientation prior-informing the name, type of employee, department, etc. (perhaps we create a standard form)
- Department completes Prior to Hire section on Orientation Checklist based on position type.
- HRS prepares required documents needed for employee to complete.

First Day – Regular employees:

- Day of orientation, supervisor or designated department rep escorts employee to HRS for orientation.
- HRS Orientation
- Supervisor picks up and takes to lunch
- Department starts orientation process
