HSS REPORT

FALL

Fall Semester College Welcome

We welcomed students on August 21st using Zoom. Dean Connolly provided a warm welcome followed by Success Coach Becca Young with a helpful presentation highlighting the tools, resources, and support for students at UNC. Then Bears met with their program faculty in breakout rooms.

Watch the recording of our HSS Fall Welcome with Q&A from President Feinstein and Provost Anderson.

Alyssa Franklin

History: Secondary Education

“I found the HSS department to be a place that created a warm academic community where I was encouraged and supported by my professors and peers to have an open mind and reach high standards.”

Colorado Department of Higher Education Seeking Input

To develop a thorough understanding of what Colorado's advisors want and need for professional development experiences, they created a short survey to collect your valuable perspectives. Please take a few moments of your time to complete the survey here.

How to Set Up Bookings with Students

Bookings can help students schedule appointments with you—whether advising or office hours. You can link your Bookings page in Canvas, on your syllabus, and your email signature: no more emailing back and forth to coordinate a time!

Follow the 5 Big Steps for Set-Up:

1. Log on to Microsoft 365 online and search for Bookings App.
2. Create your "Business" page—you can upload your photo, change the colors, set your name, and update your office location.
3. Set your available hours: under Business Info or for each service
4. Create the "Services" students book (advising, class 101, etc.)
5. Hit publish and share in your email signature, on Canvas, and in your syllabus!

When a student Books a conversation with you, you both receive a confirmation email. Bookings adds the appointment directly to your outlook calendar.

Email hss.studentsuccess@unco.edu for questions setting up your Bookings page.

Academic Misconduct Reporting

Faculty can report academic integrity violations on the Dean of Students website under "Share a Concern", then scrolling down to Academic Misconduct.

GOALS FOR 20/21

New Faculty and Staff Fall 2020

Paul Hawkins (Faculty - Criminal Justice and Criminology)

I was born 1986 in central Pennsylvania, married in July 2011 to Courtney who is a Certified Physicians Assistant, and we have two sons, ages 6 years and 6 months. I enjoy spending time with family, watching NBA games, and playing PUBG mobile; sports or recreational interests(golf, triking, hiking, and gardening)

I have a PhD in Criminology and Criminal Justice from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, Pa (2020) with a concentration in courtroom trial player decision-making, and a specialization in survey design. My current work consists of studying script, forensic evidence bias, need for cognition, and deviance among courtroom trial players. My future plans are to enhance learning among criminology and criminal justice students; develop, test, and implement effective strategies to improve performance and increase justice in the court system'

Caroline Wake (Faculty - World Languages and Cultures)

Dr. Caroline Wake was born and grew up on the island of Oahu, Hawaii. She currently lives with her husband Hisaaki (who teaches Japanese at the US Air Force Academy) and her cat Stella. In her free time, she loves to play with Stella, bake madeleines, watch anime, and play online games.

Dr. Wake received her Ph.D. in Japanese in June 2020 from Stanford University, her M.A. in Japanese also from Stanford University (2014), and her B.A.s in Anthropology and Asian Studies from the University of California Berkeley (2008). She initially studied Japanese archaeology as an undergraduate but changed her focus to premodern Japanese literature in graduate school. Her research specialty is medieval Japanese poetry and poetics, which she loves to read aloud and interpret. Her ambition is to one day teach students at UNC how to read and appreciate classical Japanese poetry.

Maria Pettolina (Faculty - Criminal Justice and Criminology)

Dr. Maria C. Pettolina was born on the east coast and raised in Philadelphia and relocated to Colorado ten years ago. Like most Coloradans, she loves to spend time in the mountains hiking and camping, no matter what the weather is.

Dr. Pettolina has over 10 years of forensic experience as a Crime Scene Investigator and is currently contracted as a forensic consultant for the State of Colorado and also works for a national forensic training company. Her education includes a B.A. in Criminal Justice from LaSalle University and a M.S. in Forensic Medicine from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine and a D.M. in Management with a concentration in Higher Education. Maria is also a first-gen college graduate. She has over 1200 hours of specialized forensic training and has been introduced as an expert in numerous criminal trials in Crime Scene Investigation and Chemical Processing of Evidence. She is a Certified Senior Crime Scene Analyst through the International Association of Identification.

Jasmine Mitchell (Staff - Student Success Resource Center)

Jasmine was born and raised in Colorado. She graduated from the University of Colorado Boulder in 2018 with a B.A. in Psychology and English and recently completed her Master's degree in Higher Education at the University of Denver. In her free time, she likes to hang out with her dog, Ore, roller skate, or play The Sims 4 on PC.

Jasmine will join UNC on September 28th as a Student Success Coach and will primarily serve as an advisor for the Criminology and Criminal Justice program's freshman and sophomore majors.
