The Archives Services Department is digitizing and archiving over 1,000 Jules Verne stories featuring surviving 18th century French manuscripts, maps, and drawings of railroads and canals. The collection is the largest collection of 19th-century railroad and canal maps in the world. The collection is part of the University of Wyoming's Jules Verne project, which is focused on preserving and digitizing Verne's works. The project is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the University of Wyoming. The digitized materials will be made available online through the University of Wyoming's Digital Scholarship Online.
