Board members of the Friends of the UNC Libraries wish all our members, friends, the UNC Community, and their families a healthy and prosperous 2016.

The Friends had a productive Fall Semester. We sponsored three art exhibitions in the Mari Michener Gallery:

Grasslands III, an art and photography show inspired by Historical Weld County; a Homecoming Exhibit by Philomena Lee, I Now Have Crayons; and a solo exhibition by local artist Judy Sprague entitled Drawings and Paintings—My Journey.

The receptions for these shows were all well attended and attest to the success of our gallery seasons. These receptions are open to everyone at no charge and we are always happy to see a large crowd viewing the best art that Greeley and the surrounding communities provide.

The first reception of the Spring Semester is Friday, January 15, 4-6 pm. Come see Ulli Limpitlaw's photography exhibit The Magic from Mountains to Prairie.

UNC Concert Choir Performs in Michener Library

On December 2, 2015, in what has become a holiday tradition, conductor Dr. Galen Darrough of the Department of Music brought the UNC Concert Choir to sing in Michener Library. The audience, which included surprised students and staff, resounded through the library and was welcomed with enthusiastic applause. Thank you, Dr. Darrough and choristers, for giving us such a beautiful sendoff into the holidays!
