

Part 3 – Student Rights and Responsibilities

2-1-301 Student Rights.

Students have the right to:

- (1) be informed of course requirements;
- (2) be evaluated fairly on the basis of their academic performance (their abilities and skills) as required by the instructor as part of a course;
- (3) experience free and open discussion, inquiry, and expression, both in the classroom and in conference;
- (4) experience competent instruction and advisement;
- (5) take exception to the data or views presented and reserve judgement about matters of opinion;
- (6) expect protection against professors' improper disclosure of student's views, beliefs, and political associations which may surface as a result of professors' instructing, advising, or counseling them;
- (7) expect protection, through established procedures, against prejudice or capricious evaluation.

2-1-302 Student Responsibilities.

Students have the responsibility to:

- (1) inquire about course requirements if they do not understand them or are in doubt about them;
- (2) maintain the standards of academic performance established for individual courses and for programs of study;
- (3) initiate an investigation if they believe their academic rights have been violated;
- (4) learn the content of any course of study;
- (5) act in accordance with commonly accepted standards of academic conduct.
