

SELF-GUIDED CAMPUS TOUR

1 Campus Commons 7E

The hub of all things UNC, including Admissions, Bear Central (Offices of Financial Aid, Registrar and Student Accounts), UNC Gallery, Campus Commons Performance Hall and Pie Café.

2 University Center 7E

The University Center (UC) links west and central campuses. The university bookstore, Zachariah's food court, a salon, and several retail dining locations are located here. To the north of the University Center stands a bronze bear statue known as "Northern Vision," a great place for a photo!

3 Ross Hall 8D

Ross Hall is equipped with many state-of-the-art laboratories and multi-media classrooms for research and science education. Inside Ross is a campus tradition: a bust of former President Ross, whose bald head students rub for luck in exams. Mathematics and English tutoring centers also located in Ross.

4 McKee Hall 7D

McKee Hall is known for being the core of the teacher education institute, as well as the Psychology and Philosophy departments.

5 Michener Library 7C

UNC library is named for renowned UNC alumnus and Pulitzer Prize winning author James A. Michener. Michener Library is the largest building on campus, with 17 miles of full bookshelves and many study spaces. The library also houses SOAR, Disability Resource Services and the Center for Honors, Scholars and Leadership.

6 Candelaria Hall 7C

Candelaria Hall is home to the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. Many of UNC's language labs and computer stations are here and Bear News also operates out of Candelaria.

7 César Chávez Cultural Center 6B

Located in the Patton House, the César Chávez Cultural Center can help you connect with other students, learn about UNC resources and find out about Latino and Latina organizations on campus.

8 Nottingham and the Southwest Fields 7A-10B

Nottingham field is our football arena that can hold up to 8,500 fans at each home game. To the south of Nottingham you will find a series of practice fields used by UNC's athletic organizations.

9 Butler Hancock Sports Pavilion and Bank of Colorado Arena 8B

With its seating capacity of 3,000, intercollegiate athletics, concerts, and philanthropic events are all hosted in Butler Hancock. The building includes a field house, training facility and athletics offices.

10 Campus Recreation Center 9C

The Rec Center is equipped with strength training and cardio equipment, numerous gyms and fitness rooms, a 31-foot climbing wall, and offers a wide variety of group fitness classes. Campus Rec Outdoor Pursuits program, located in Harrison Hall, also offers free rental equipment for outdoor adventures like skiing and camping.

11 West Campus Housing 9D

West campus residence halls accommodate more than 2,000 students with convenient access to Holmes Dining Hall, Michener Library and the Campus Rec Center. Halls include North Hall and South Hall, Lawrenson Hall, Turner Hall and Harrison Hall.

12 Holmes Dining Hall 9D

Holmes Dining Hall offers several dining options for every meal, and can hold 550 students comfortably. Many special events are held here throughout the year.

13 Kohl and Davis Houses 6F

Davis House hosts The Marcus Garvey Center for Black Cultural Education and both the Asian/Pacific American Student Services (A/PASS) and Native American Student Services (NASS) are located in the Kohl House. Each house has a lounge, resource library and computer lab.

14 Central Campus Housing 5F

Central campus is known for its beauty, green spaces and charm. The residence halls here accommodate more than 1,000 students and provide close access to Tobey-Kendel and the Student Health and Counseling Centers. Halls include Bond, Brown, Dickeson, and Luján Halls (Presidents Row), Sabin, Snyder, Decker, Gordon and Belford Halls (Central Coalition), Hansen-Willis Hall, Wiebking and Wilson Halls.

15 Tobey-Kendel Hall 5F

Tobey-Kendel, known simply as T-K to students, is one of three dining locations on campus. The offices of Housing and Residential Education and Dining Services are also located here.

16 Scott-Wilcoxon Hall 5E

The Center for Women's and Gender Equity and the Stryker Institute for Leadership Development provide materials, programs and discussions about gender and women's issues, celebrate the achievements of women and raise awareness on the status of women everywhere.

17 Cassidy Hall 5E

Registered nurses, counselors, nurse practitioners and physicians all work here to keep Bears healthy. The Student Health Center, the University Counseling Center and the Assault Survivors Advocacy Program are all in Cassidy Hall.

18 Student Affairs and Equity & Inclusion 4F

Getting involved in student organizations, social justice, jobs and internships, leadership and the community enable you to practice what you've learned in the classroom and develop your skill set for success in your career and global society.

19 Ben Nighthorse Campbell Center 4F

University of Northern Colorado Cancer Rehabilitation Institute (UNCCRI), housed in the Ben Nighthorse Campbell Center, is recognized nationally as a leading facility in cancer rehabilitation.

20 Gunter Hall 3F

Originally designed to be UNC's athletics building, this iconic structure is a hive of academic activity. Natural and Health Sciences programs, including Sport and Exercise Science, Nursing and Speech Language Pathology, all assemble here. The bell tower tolls every quarter hour.

21 Gray Hall 3G

Once home to a pub called the Bru-In, Parking Services, the UNC Police Department and Norton Theatre are the primary occupants of Gray Hall today.

22 Arts Annex 4G

Photographers, sculptors, jewelry makers and ceramists all have creative studios in this space, along with a 20-station digital darkroom and 3-D printing lab.

23 Roudebush Cottage 3G

Veterans Services occupies the Roudebush cottage. Resources for veteran and military-affiliated students, advising for those under the GI Bill, and the headquarters for the Student Veterans of America UNC affiliate are a part of Veterans Services.

24 Guggenheim and Crabbe Halls 3G

These sister buildings are creation spaces for Performing and Visual Arts majors at UNC. There are two dance studios located in Crabbe, and art studios and classrooms for Visual arts in both buildings, as well as Mariani Art Gallery.

25 Kepner Hall 2G

This unique red brick building used to be a K-12 school in the 1920's, now home to Monfort College of Business. Many of the classrooms are equipped with SMART technology as well as a Coffee Corner in the lower level.

26 Carter Hall 2F

This former library now houses University Advancement and Information Management and Technology. Outside the west doors sits the cornerstone of Cranford Hall, the first UNC building, constructed in 1890.

27 Frasier Hall and Skinner Music Library 1-2F

Skinner Music Library has more than 100,000 music scores as well as books and periodicals on its shelves. Frasier Hall is home to music and theatre arts classrooms and performance spaces.

28 Garden Theatre 3F

UNC's outdoor stage hosts concerts, dancing, and campus gatherings.

29 Jackson Sports Complex 5I

Located just a few blocks from the main campus, Jackson Field is comprised of the UNC Ropes Course, a soccer field, a baseball field and the practice space for the Pride of the Rockies Marching Band.
